Road Plan Would By-Pass City

C of C To Hear Proposals

Re-routing of Route 42 Eyed

A highway plan, calling for by-passing of the Mansfield business district by through traffic will be aired at a meeting tonight of the Chamber of Commerce traffic committee.

The meeting, called by John Conard, committee chairman, will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Chamber's assembly rooms.

Conard said city and county officials have been invited to the meeting. He extended an invitation to anyone interested in the city's traffic problems

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk will present an idea for a highway to by-pass the business district by providing a belt line for U. S. Routet 42.

Under the plan, which has been under discussion for some years, the by-pass would start at Cook road and go east, then north, rejoining Route 42 at a point near the Ashland hill.

PLANS PREPARED

The Ashland division state highway office for several years had plans for a super highway across the northern part of the city, linking U. S. Routes 42 and 30 and 30-S and taking the traffic out of the downtown district.

The route would be elevated through Mansfield and would connect Route 42 south of the city with the two Route 30's west of Mansfield. The traffic would flow through the city over one route and then would be distributed in the vicinity of the Ashland hill.

Another idea to be presented to the committee tonight calls for extending Broadway street in Shelby north to State Route 61, while a third idea contains a proposal for building a grade separation on Trimble road over the Erie railroad.

Conard said that the ideas would be presented to the highway committee tonight and if approved, they would be sent to the Chamber's board of directors for ratification.

Rusk has prepared charts and plans of the proposals in order to amplify tonight's discussion Conard will be chairman for the meeting.

Gambling Plot Bared

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal. —(UP)—The mother of five-year-old Joey Goodman said today her son's kidnaping was framed.

Police Chief C. H. Anderson said he agreed that the kidnaping story and payoff were a hoax, but he scheduled a meeting later with Joe Goodman sr., and his wife to hear the whole story.

"It looks to me like the payment of a gambling debt," Mrs. Mary Goodman said.

Anderson said Goodman, an admitted gambler and once arrested with racketeer Mickey Cohen, had reportedly been losing heavily at gambling tables.

"I'm convinced there is a hoax somewhere in this," he said.

Goodman, a dress shop owner and reported associate of gambling boss Mickey Cohen said the child, a military school student, was "picked up" yesterday morning.

Will Arraign Youth For Train Robbery

FAIRMONT, W. Va. — (AP) — Luman Ramsdell, one of a pair of Youngstown youths charged with a Jesse James style train holdup, will be arraigned in federal court here Wednesday.

Ramsdell, wounded while resisting arrest in Washington, D. C., is in the Marion county jail. He and George L. Ashton are accused of halting the Baltimore and Ohio "Ambassador" passenger train and robbing 100 passengers of about $1,000.

Senate To Quiz Royall

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Army Secretary Royall will be called on in the Senate today to answer ex-President Hoover's charges of "staggering waste" in military spending.

Royall appears before the Senate Armed Services committee which heard Hoover urge "radical reform" of the defense budget.

The army secretary is scheduled to testify on legislation to strengthen the powers of Defense Secretary Johnson, which is under committee consideration.

But at least one member, Sen. Morse (R) Oregon, said he wants to hear Royall's answer to the Hoover charges which were seconded by former Secretary of War Patterson and a Hoover commission task force.

CAUSES TAX PROBLEM

Sen. Wherry (R) Neb., GOP floor leader, asserted that the accusations bring Congress face to face with the threat of a tax increase.

He said the new development supports his contention that "we have to fix a pattern—a pattern of staying within our income."

"The Hoover task force, headed by Ferdinand Eberstadt, reported that the Army has lost "vast quantities" of war materials since World War II ended, including 9,000 tanks. It said: "It is difficult to escape the conclusion that 'padding' has been a fairly general practice."

Hoover testified that Eberstadt thought one billion, 500 million dollars could be slashed from the military budget without interfering with defense goals if wasteful practices are eliminated.

1-Cent Milk Drop Seen

Price Here Tops Other Ohio Cities

Milk prices will go down one cent in Mansfield Saturday morning and they may decrease another cent by May 1, a dairy spokesman said today.

Even with the one-cent drop, milk prices in Mansfield will be a cent higher than in Cleveland, Galion, and other northern Ohio cities. Cleveland's second one-cent drop was effective yesterday.

Galion dairies announced a two-cent drop today, bringing the price per quart to 17 cents. Mansfield is paying 19 cents.

Dairy spokesmen here said today they expected the price in Mansfield to come down another cent by May 1 as pastures grow more luxuriant and the milk output increases.

All milk products will decline following the milk price drop, dairymen said.

War Crimes Court Convicts 2 Nazis

NUERNBERG, Germany — (AP) — A U. S. war crimes court today convicted a German diplomat and a former SS (elite guard) general of helping the nazis to exterminate 6,000,000 Jews.

The diplomat is Gustav Steengracht Von Moyland, 46, bright young man of Hitler's foreign office. The general is Gottlob Berger, 52, who headed the main office of Hitler's notorious SS forces.

Pronouncement of sentences, which may range up to the death penalty, is scheduled for Thursday—the final step in the last of the trials.

Two Go On Trial In American's Slaying

SALONIKA, Greece — (UP) — A former Greek newspaperman and his aged mother went on trial today in the murder last May of George Polk, Columbia Broadcasting system correspondent.

The trial opened in the Salonika courthouse on the waterfront, two blocks from where Polk's body was found floating in the bay. He had been trussed up and shot in the head.

Mansfield Shoppers On 'Spree'

Pre-Easter Sales Lead to Buying

An 11th hour pick-up in Easter buying sent sales soaring in Mansfield stores today while government economists predicted a "mild buying flurry" may be in the offing.

V. H. Lodde, secretary-manager of the Mansfield Retail Merchants' association, said traffic in the credit bureau department over the week-end "seemed like a couple of weeks before Christmas."

Lodde added that vigorous buying will probably continue through this week, leading up to Easter.

UP TO NORMAL

Although he said buying in Mansfield has been slower since Christmas, sales in department stores mounted to "normal" last week-end. He said "it is no question that mark-downs were responsible."

Admittedly sales haven't been up to last year's level until recently, Lodde said, adding that the trend in buying will be determined after Easter.

Merchants who have put their Easter goods on a pre-Easter sale, reported "wonderful" business today; others, presumably waiting to clear their stocks in post-Easter sales, said sales were "normal, pre-war" level.

Economists backed their "buying spree" prediction by a check which disclosed heavier and earlier Easter shopping. In Mansfield, however, merchants said a late Easter had held up many of normal and earlier sales.

Government experts said sales show the public appears to be taking advantage of lower prices. Figures were backed by the latest Federal Reserve Board figures on nationwide department store sales.

Easter arrived on March 28 last year, but comes on April 17 this time

Economists said they regard the department store sales as representative of Easter buying generally. These types of transactions usually account for the majority of pre-Easter wearing apparel buying.

Hint DiMag Will Retire

FORT WORTH, Texas—April 12 —(UP)—Joltin' Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees announced today he was leaving the club to undergo further treatments for his injured heel.

There is some feeling in the Yankee camp that DiMaggio's injury is so serious that he may be forced to retire from baseball, at least for this season.

(This announcement followed rumors the Yankee star had injured his heel again and would voluntarily retire.)

The Yankee Clipper, highest salaried player in the history of baseball, suffered a recurrence of the injury to his heel in a Sunday exhibition game in Greenville, Tex., when he raced from second to home, scoring on a hit.

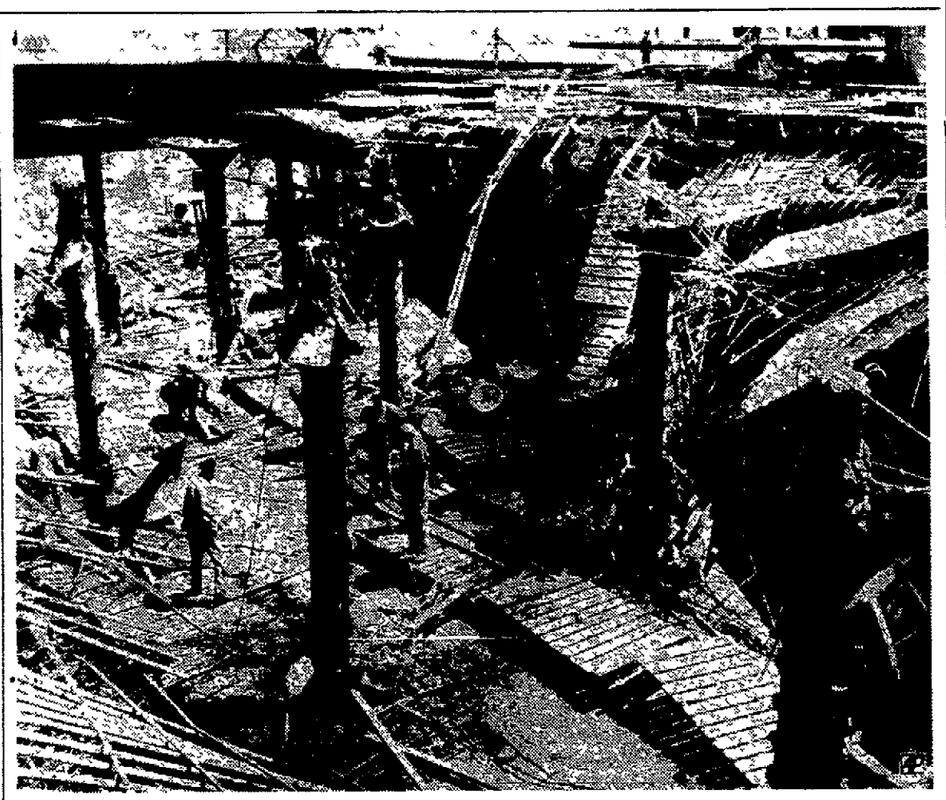
DiMaggio has played only briefly in training games this spring and early in March was flown from the Yankee training base at St. Petersburg, Fla., to Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore for treatment of the heel

He had an operation to remove a heel spur shortly after the close of last season.

Claims Russians In 'Ox-Cart' Era

MEADVILLE, Pa. — (UP) — Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, wartime head of the atomic bomb project at Oak Ridge, Tenn., said last night that he believed Russia would not have an atom bomb until 1960.

He said skilled workmanship in Russia was in the "ox-cart era" compared with that in the United States. He said there were 1,000 persons in America to 12 in Russia with enough intelligence to work on the development of the bomb.



WORKER BURIED ALIVE—Robert Lacey, 62, of Venice, Calif., was buried alive in 300,000 pounds of fresh concrete when the roof of the new Santa Monica reservoir collapsed yesterday. Lacey was starting his first day on the job. Workers recovered his body after three hours of frantic digging. Nine others were injured in the accident. One of these is shown (arrow) receiving treatment from a policeman.

Parents Would Aid Others

Kathy's Funeral to Be Held Tomorrow

SAN MARINO, Calif. —(INS)— Preparations for Kathy Fiscus' funeral, to be held tomorrow were completed today and the child's parents asked sympathizers who plan to send flowers to donate money to the Los Angeles Children's hospital instead.

In a statement issued through Dr. Paul Hanson, David Fiscus and his wife, Alice, said:

"Flowers last such a short time.

"If an equivalent amount of money were sent to the Children's hospital of Los Angeles, a non-profit, non-denominational hospital caring for children, we feel that our little Kathy's untimely death might be the cause of saving some child for a useful life."

Final rites for 3½-year-old Kathy will be held at 2 p. m. (EST) tomorrow in the Little Stone church in Alhambra.

Late yesterday, Dr Hanson said the small girl might have survived her imprisonment in the abandoned well in which she perished if her knees had not jammed up against her chest in the 14-inch pipe.

CHILD SUFFOCATED

She died of suffocation, he said, because her knees pressed so hard against her chest that she was unable to breathe in the cramped quarters. There was enough air in the well to support life.

Meanwhile, America is opening her pocketbook to reward the heroes who lost their race with death in their attempt to rescue little Kathy.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce reports money is coming in from all parts of the country for the 50 to 60 men who toiled under most hazardous conditions long beyond the normal exhaustion point

The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars are sponsoring fund drives.

President Earle V. Grover of the chamber said one of the committee's first jobs is to consider recommending the engineers and sandhogs for Carnegie hero medals.

He explained the purpose of the fund is not to pay the men for the long, hazardous hours they donated, but rather to give them financial recognition. The fund address is. The Rescue Fund Committee, % Postmaster, Los Angeles.

Meantime, H. E. (Whitey) Blickensderfer, "foreman" of the rescue effort, expressed the feelings of his gangs when he said

"I'm no hero It was just a matter of simple humanity."

OK Seen For Aid Funds

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House lined up the new European Recovery program for swift passage today after a battle over how much it should cost

Approval looked like a cinch after the way a team of Democrats and Republicans methodically smashed all but one attempt to change the program yesterday.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) predicted the same lineup would mow down efforts to trim the total, holding it "as is" at $5,380,000,000, plus a $272,000,000 guarantee to private investors.

The Senate approved a $5,580,000,000 European Recovery bill by a 70 to 7 vote last Friday, after 13 days of wrangling debate.

Rayburn said it might all be over in "a couple of hours or so." He said he expected plenty of attempts to slice the bill but "not much trouble" batting them back.

Job Seekers Jam Board

60 Miss Deadline For City Posts

Civil service commission members are being swamped with late applications from job hunters who want to take the April 21 civil service examination

"I would estimate 50 to 60 persons have made late requests to take the examination," T. A. Woodard, commission chairman said.

He said it was impossible to grant permission to take the examination to these late applicants.

Deadline for securing applications for the examination was March 31, and the deadline for filing them was April 5

CHECKS APPLICATIONS

Civil service commission members will meet Thursday to scan nearly 100 applications, but many were ineligible because they had not lived in Mansfield long enough, Woodard said.

It was the largest turnout for a civil service examination in Mansfield in more than 10 years.

The examination will be held at 7:30 p. m. April 21 at John Simpson Junior high school.

Three rooms will be used, Woodard said normally only one room is required.

'Firebug' Sets Twelve Blazes

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A "firebug" flitted around Columbus last night—setting 12 rubbish fires in less than three hours.

Always just a bit ahead of the arson squad, the fire-happy character started his first blaze at 2 a. m and his final one at 4:25 a. m

One fire was set in rubbish at the rear of the Towne hotel in downtown Columbus. It was extingished without guests being distrubed.

Panting firemen managed to keep damage down to $500 and to save 15 dogs from burning in a pet hospital.

Moon to Hide In Earth's Shadow Tonight

Clouds Threaten to Mar Sky Show

An increasing cloud blanket threatens to mar the moon eclipse show tonight.

The weatherman said it probably will be possible to see at least a part of the eclipse, but indications are that clouds will obscure the latter part of the sky show.

The moon will start sliding into the fringe of the earth's shadow at 8:32 p. m. today. By 9:28 it will have entered the direct shadow and exactly an hour later you'll see nothing but a reddish glow, caused by the retraction of some of the sunlight.

The eclipse will be total until 12:54 a. m, and the moon will emerge at 1:51 a. m

Mansfield area's amateur astronomers will be at the Marvin Pingel home at the corner of Cook road and Sunset boulevard tonight to watch the eclipse and take pictures.

Val Isham, who recently invented a special camera for celestial photography, expects to take pictures of the progress of the eclipse from the time it starts until its finish.

Robert R. Coles, associate curator of the Hayden planetarium in New York, explained that an eclipse is conclusive proof, among other things, that the world is round.

The rare phenomena will be seen from anywhere in North or South America with the naked eye. Most people will be content to watch the phenomena that way.

However, astronomers will go into the matter more deeply—making use of the occasion to check up on the speed, motion and relative distances of the earth, the sun and the moon.

Increasing cloudiness with scattered showers was predicted by the weatherman for today. The forecast for tonight and Wednesday was cloudy, with a few showers in the south portion of the state

Goes Fishing, Loses Auto, —No Fish!

COLUMBUS —(INS)— It didn't rain yesterday, but that's the only thing that didn't happen to spoil Walter Snyder's day of fishing.

Snyder parked his car on the Scioto river bank and walked to the water's edge.

A moment later the car came plunging down the bank after him.

Snyder leaped aside and the car continued into 25 feet of water.

Loud Talker Flees After Looting Safe

Gets Checks, Cash In Insurance Office

A vociferous robber who snatched checks and currency from the safe of the Tracy-Massa Insurance agency Monday afternoon while complaining about his insurance policy was sought today by police.

J. E. Massa, owner of the agency said the loot snatched by the fast talker included three checks and a "reasonable amount" of money.

Massa reported the robbery to police at 3:30 p. m. yesterday after he and two witnesses to the robbery chased the robber down the third floor hall in the Walpark building and down the stairs. Massa described the robber as well-dressed and about 25 years of age.

Massa told police the man came into his office while he was talking on the telephone and immediately began complaining, in a loud voice, that his insurance policy didn't pay damages.

He said the man kept pacing back and forth in front of an open safe and that he suddenly stopped, pulled out the cash drawer and ran from the office.

The robber, who made a getaway down the stairs, was described as five feet, 11 inches tall, weighing around 160 pounds, and wearing brown trousers and hat and a checked sport coat.

Balls of Fire Streak Across Eastern Skies

NEW YORK — (AP) — A meteor flamed across southern New England last night and burst

A "ball of fire" was reported seen at various points along the northeastern seabord, and as far inland as Albany, N Y.

An airline pilot said "parts seemed to be falling all over Rhode Island."

An air force pilot reported seeing a "ball of fire" fall to the ground near Newcastle, Del.

Prof. Charles H. Smiley of Brown university, Providence, R I., said the meteor probably burst with blue-white brilliance north of Boston, and burned out somewhere east of Fall River, Mass.

There was no scientific proof linking the "ball of fire" reported in Delaware with the meteor which streaked across part of New England about 7 30 p. m, (EST).

Two Children Die In Flames

CINCINNATI — (INS) — Two young children were burned to death and four other members of their family were slightly injured, the father critically, today as fire gutted their four-room suburban Cincinnati home

Madeira fire officials said Billy and Tommy Ruud, ages 5 and 4 respectively, were burned beyond recognition when flames ripped through their frame home after their father, Ray, tried to kindle a fire with kerosene.

Ohio Wheat Crop To Top '48 Total

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Agricultural department yesterday estimated Ohio's winter wheat crop this year would be 60,025,000 bushels, compared to 57,648,000 bushels last year.

The department's estimate for the nation was 1,019,686,000 bushels, which would be the second largest crop on record.

It said the stocks of grains on Ohio farms April 1 this year and last, respectively, included:

Corn—98,448,000 and 45,726,000 bushels; wheat, 5,765,000 and 6,764,000 bushels; oats, 17,750,000 and 7,623,000 bushels.

Truman Urges Swift OK

Hails Peace As U. S. Aim

WASHINGTON — (INS) — President Truman sent the North Atlantic Defense treaty to the Senate today and asked quick ratification of the pact as a step toward "peace with justice."

The chief executive declared the alliance is within the fabric of the United Nations charter and underscored the peaceful aims of the United States and the other signatory powers.

Mr. Truman told the Senate: "This treaty is an expression of the desire of the people of the United States for peace and security, for the continuing opportunity to live and work in freedom.

"Events of this century have taught us that we cannot achieve peace independently.

WORLD TOO SMALL

"The world has grown too small. The oceans to our east and west no longer protect us from the reach of brutality and aggression.

"We have also learned — learned in blood and conflict—that if we are to achieve peace we must work for peace.

"In the last year we have embarked on a great cooperative enterprise with the free nations of Europe to restore the vitality of the European economy—so important to the prosperity and peace of our country and the world.

"The North Atlantic treaty is further evidence of our determination to work for a peaceful world. It is in accord with the action of the Senate last June when it signified its approval of our country's associating itself in peacetime with countries outside the western hemisphere in collective arrangements, within the framework of the United Nations charter, designed to safeguard peace and security.

"The treaty makes clear the determination of the people of the United States and of our neighbors in the North Atlantic community to do their utmost to maintain peace with justice and to take such action as they deem necessary if the peace is broken."

The President said the North Atlantic pact is "only one step" on the road toward peace.

Two Killed In Accident

POMEROY — (AP) — Two Ohio youths were killed and a third was burned today when a gasoline transport overturned in a cornfield four miles north of Pomeroy.

The dead: Dave Hendricks of Middleport, and Kenneth Grover of Syracuse.

Robert Salser of Racine, a companion, received second degree gasoline burns. The truck, however, did not ignite.

The truck driver, William Pelfrey of Catlettsburg, Ky., received a minor facial cut.

Highway patrolmen said the truck failed to make a curve opposite the Rock Springs telephone exchange on Route 33.

Starving World Called 'Bunk'

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Farmer-Novelist Louis Bromfield told the annual meeting of the Columbus chapter of friends of the land last night that "the world can feed itself any time it wants to."

Bromfield said the theory that the world faces starvation was "bunk." He explained

"If Ohio could be put on an ideal agricultural basis, the state could produce three times the amount of food it does today. . .there is no excuse for a bad famer. In a generation or less there'll be no bad famers in Ohio—they'll be economically liquidated."

15-Year-Old Slayer Seeking New Trial

BRYAN — (AP) — Ervin Arthur (Bud) Ingle, 15-year-old schoolboy convicted of the first degree murder of a 56-year-old housewife; yesterday asked the common pleas court for a new trial.

Three judges convicted Ingle Saturday of the fatal shooting of Mrs. John Gabriel. Their recommendation for mercy saved the youth from the electric chair, but made a life sentence mandatory.

Miss Harriett Ann Gorham To Be Wed On April 23

APRIL 23 IS THE DATE chosen by Miss Harriet Ann Gorham for her marriage to James E. Sunnucks. The couple will exchange nuptial vows at 1:30 in the First English Lutheran church with Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell officiating. The custom of the open church will observed for the informal ceremony.

Announcement of the coming nuptials were made at the home of Miss Gorham's aunt, Mrs. Patsy Stirp, Orange street. Mrs. Richard A. Hunt, cousin of the bride-elect, was the associate hostess for the kitchen shower.

Games were the diversion of the evening. Prizes were awarded by Miss Nina Jean Stash, Miss Elaine Pugh and Miss Joan Sunnucks, who presented them to the honoree.

The decorations were in the form of white bells hanging from the chandeliers and archways with streamers of yellow and orchid. Small announcement cards in the shape of small sprinkling cans were suspended above a large water filled bowl in which were floating flowers carried out the color scheme of the decorations.

Light refreshments were served before the bride-elect opened her gifts.

Miss Gorham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Kierns, Lexington. Mr. Sunnucks is the son of Mr. and and Mrs. Howard Sunnucks, Ontario.

The couple both graduated from Springfield Township schools. Miss Gorham is employed at the Ohio Brass Company in the office. Mr. Sunnucks is an employe in the photographic department of the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Guest Meeting Held at Home Of Mrs. Berry

Members of the Child Guidance club met at the home of Mrs. Edgar Berry, Ohio street, for their semi-annual guest meeting. Mrs. George Comer, probation officer of the juvenile court, was the guest speaker.

Her subject was "Adoptions". She stressed the point that only by being well informed, can we work intelligently in any situation.

"A child's character is the sum of what he has to start with, plus what he runs up against, plus what he is taught to do about it", the speaker said.

A buffet luncheon was served by the hostess from a table centered with spring flowers and candles. Ice cream in flower molds was served. Mrs. Lee Appleman poured. The guests present were Mrs. John Hoffman, Mrs. Richard Hammell, Mrs. Charles Posa, Mrs. Bernard Rudolph and Mrs. Russell Hawk.

Mansfield told the group about his recent trip to California where he visited Mr. and Mrs. Willis James, former members of the class.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bush and John Ryan. Those on the committee in charge of arrangements were Mr. and Mrs. George Lehr, chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Yale Idle, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mansfield and Miss Ethlyn Anten.

Donations Made By Auxiliary at Legion Meeting

The regular meeting of Earl D. McVey Unit number 16, American Legion auxiliary, was held Monday evening. The president, Mrs. D. A. McCullough, was in charge of the business session.

Mrs. Ina Hegnauer, child welfare chairman, reported paying fuel bills for two veteran's families. Two months rent for a family with two children was payed and clothing for a seven year old child, to enable her to attend school, was purchased.

Mrs. Winona Flory, rehabilitation chairman, reported having paid rent and purchasing clothing for several veterans. The unit voted to buy four flags, a pole and standard for Boy and Girl Scout troops. Twenty-five dollars was donated to Unit 72, to be used to help defray the expenses of sending children to Hidden Hollow camp.

It was voted to send the Mansfield News-Journal to Crile Veteran's hospital. An invitation was extended to members to attend open house at the Poppy shop which is located at the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors home, Sandusky, May 1.

The next meeting will be held April 25 at which time a child welfare program, under the direction of Mrs. Ina Hegnauer, and a Pan American program, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Welty, will be presented. The social hour will be arranged by Mrs. Vera Yoder and Mae Downing.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Mary Schettler, program chairman. A humerous reading was given by Mrs. Emma Young. Helpful hints were given by other members. Those taking part in the program were presented with small Easter baskets.

Committee to Hold Banquet

The Child Care and Training Committee, Women of the Moose met last night at the Moose hall with 18 members and 10 guests. Guests were Mrs. Michael Campanelli, senior regent, Mrs. Ralph Benson, Mrs. Gene Miller, Mrs. Geneva Workman, Mrs. Raymond Simmons, Mrs. Henry Au, Mrs. Charles Avery, Mrs. John Carr, Mrs. Roy Baker and Mrs. Ray Armstrong.

The business was conducted by the chairman, Mrs. Anton Schweitzer. Plans were made for the banquet to be held at the Carol Inn on May 9. Members are to meet at the Moose Hall at 6 p. m. A white elephant sale was held.

The club prize was won by Mrs. Roy Baker. Contests were won by Mrs. Henry Au and Mrs. Armstrong.

Hostesses were Mrs. Dan Distl, Mrs. John Kulka, Mrs. Mary Hunt, Mrs. Charles Abbott, Mrs. Ralph Jesson and Mrs. Alexandera Hamilton.

Beta Sigma Phi Plans Annual Spring Dance For May 21

At their regular meeting in the bluerooms of the Hotel Southern, members of the Epsilon Iota chapter of Beta Sigma Phi learned of the appointment of Mrs. Donald Krichbaum as chairman of the annual benefit dance for the second consecutive year. The dance will be held by the group on May 21 at the Richland Recreation. Assisting her as co-chairmen are the Misses Loretta Anne Fink and Ann Stulpin. The committee was reappointed by president, Mrs. Paul Lantz, due to the success of the benefit held last spring, which at that time was led by Mrs. Krichbaum.

Each year the sorority sponsors the semi-formal dance, the proceeds of which maintain and furnish a room in the tuberculosis sanatorium. This is the chapter's fourth annual dance of this type. Music will be furnished by Speros Karos and his orchestra. The dance will be open to the public and tickets may be obtained from any member.

Mrs. O. V. Epps, social committee chairman, announced to the group that a covered-dish dinner and square dance would be held on April 22 at Liberty Park pavilion for members and their friends. This will be a square-dance for the members of the chapter.

On April 28 the two chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, Epsilon Iota and Epsilon Tau will celebrate jointly the sorority's annual formal Founder's Day Banquet at the Richland Recreation. The formal dinner is scheduled for seven o'clock and will be followed by a short program.

Following the business meeting, an interesting cultural program was given by Miss Margaret Bush, Mrs. Eugene Melton and Mrs. Francis Stulpin.

Miss Bush chose as her topic, "Mountain Camping and Game Hunting". She explained her topic in connection with the game regions of the far north, British Columbia, Canada and the United States. She told of many secrets of nature and of exploring and hunting for knowledge or specimens in botany and zoology.

Mrs. Melton gave an informative and interesting paper on "Ways of Enjoying Leisure Time" and "The Difficult Art of Being Sociable". She told of different sports and recreations which appealed to different parts of the U. S. and foreign countries.

Mrs. Stulpin presented a paper on "Flower Arrangements" and their preparation and the art of preserving them. She explained how we must cooperate with nature, and explained gardening and landscape architecture.

The next regular meeting will be held on April 21 in the clubrooms of the Hotel Southern when election of officers will be an event of the evening. In charge of the cultural program will be Mrs. Ralph Kelley, Mrs. George Beck and Miss Marlee Leiter.

Miss Garrett Becomes Bride Of Mr. Tackett

Miss Isabelle Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Encil Garrett, 39 Crestline avenue, formerly of Plymouth, became the bride of Ollie Tacket, son of Mrs. Elbert Tackett, R. D. 1, in a ceremony held April 9 at Greenup, Kentucky.

The bride was attired in a blue crepe street length dress with white accessories. The couple was attended by the bride's parents and Ora Perry, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bridegroom is an employe of the Blue Sunoco service station. The couple will be at home with the bride's parents.

Upon their return to Mansfield, the newlyweds were feted with a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Paramore, 523 North Mulberry street, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. Forty guests were present. A three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, centered the dinner table.

SAIL THE CARIBBEAN—South American Cruise Suggested For This Year's Vacation

By ANN SCHOENMAN

FOLLOWING THE PATH made by the adventurous Conquistadores, we'll sail over the blue waters of the Caribbean with one of the famous Grace Lines Caribbean-South American cruises.

Our luxurious home on water leaves New York and skims over the ocean which has the color of an artist's touch. A master's brush has ranged the shades of the waters from a delicate opalescent blue or green to the deepest ultramarine to form views of unbelievable brilliance.

The first landfall we make is at Willemstad, Curacao, North West Indies. Willemstad is a fascinating little town as "Dutch" as a dike, windmill or tulip and as gay and colorful as a carnival.

To reach Willemstad's harbor our ship sails right through the center of town giving us a taxi-view of the gabled buildings, the picturesque costumes worn in and around the market and the workings of the unique pontoon bridge. A sightseeing tour on this little isle is like a visit backstage at a light opera.

La Guaira, Venezuela, our next stop, is set on one of the world's most beautiful harbors. Mountains rise to a height of almost two miles above the short line. Red-roofed, white buildings are strewn like petals down their rust and green slopes. At their feet native craft ride at anchor.

While docked at La Guaira, we take a quick, thrilling twenty-three mile drive through the mountains to Caracas, the capital. This city has a perfect blending of colonial and modern. In the city and near by are historic landmarks connected with its native son, Simon Bolivar.

After boarding our ocean liner for the second time, we sail to Puerto Cabello, situated on an excellent harbor with waters so quiet 'tis said that a ship could be "anchored therein merely by a hair and not break its moorings." Here we see old balconied buildings and palm-shaded plazas recalling the days when the port use to be a favorite rendezvous of pirates.

These two stops in Venezuela make it possible for us to leave our ship overnight and take the 160-mile tour of the country between the ports of LaGuaira and Puerto Cabello.

Cartagena, the oldest walled city in the New World, is the last foreign port on our route. As our ship passes through narrow channels, past green peninsulas and grim fortresses — "Cartagena de Indias" which in the sixteenth century was one of the most coveted "treasure ports" and most highly fortified strongholds of the famous Conquistadores.

During the daylight hours we spend here, we explore the fortresses, dungeons and underground tunnels. We even have time to visit the 400-year-old village still held snugly within its famous walls.

We again board our liner, the Santa Rosa or Santa Paula, and head for home, filled with memories of the enchanting Caribbean.

Star Lefty Looks Good In 7 Heats

JACKSON, MISS. — (INS) — The Cleveland Indians' highly-touted pitching staff appeared today to be rounding rapidly into shape, with lefty Gene Bearden the latest addition to the list of "readies."

The lanky southpaw, pitching for the first time since he pulled a leg muscle two weeks, ago, gave up seven hits in seven innings while his teammates pounded the New York Giants, 9-3, in Texarkana, Tex., yesterday.

That win was the tribe's fifth in a row and its sixth in 10 games with the polo grounders.

Bearden, in spite of his leg, held the Giants scoreless for the first four innings with two hits, one of them a ground-rule double.

The Giants got their first run on another ground-rule double and two singles in the fifth. They tallied their final two runs in the seventh, again partly because of a ground-rule two-bagger.

Indian catcher Jim Hegan continued his hot hitting spree with four hits, three singles and a double, in five trips to the plate. He has made nine safe blows in his last 11 times at bat.

SHARE HIT HONORS

Joe Gordon, Ken Keltner and Mickey Vernon shared slugging honors with Hegan in the Indians' 18-hit attack. Gordon had two doubles and a single in five times up. Keltner got two doubles in four trips, and Vernon hit a homer and a single.

The Redskins tallied in all but two innings off righthanders Andy Hansen and Sam Webb.

Gordon doubled and Kennedy singled him home in the first inning. Vernon homered in the third and in the fifth Dale Mitchell'a ground-rule double was followed by Larry Doby's single for the Indians' third run of the game.

Two of the Tribe's runs were unearned and came in the sixth frame. Bob Kennedy singled and Orestes Minoso was sent in to run for him. Hegan singled and Minoso took second. Minoso was trapped off second. But the speedy Cuban raced to third and scored on a wild throw by short. stop Johnny Kerr. Hegan scored on Vernon's single.

MESS OF DOUBLES

Two doubles by Gordon and Keltner accounted for another run in the seventh. Hegan's double, followed by an infield grounder and a wild pitch produced another in the eighth.

Minoso's two-run homer, following Keltner's double, ended the scoring in the ninth.

Steve Gromek and Frank Papish were to pitch for the Tribe today in Jackson. Sheldon Jones was the likely Giant starter.

"PLAY BALL" IN JAPAN—Led by a mascot bearing name of the team, Japanese baseball players parade on opening day in Toyko. Third in line is Victor Stalfin, White Russian.

Championship Shiloh Nine Can't Find Baseball Tilts

Shiloh high school Coach O. K. Lutz has a problem.

He has a county championship baseball team eligible for the district tournament but can find only one team to play his boys for a warm-up before the district meet.

Shiloh won the county title last fall, making it eligible for the district to be held the first week in May at Sandusky. But with most schools concentrating on track this spring, Lexington is the only opponent it can find. Games with that school have been scheduled for April 19 at Shiloh and one week later at Lexington.

Lutz has had his team practicing at every available opportunity and only in the outfield is he uncertain of his lineup. In the infield he has Chuck Wolfersberger at first base, Don Guthrie at second, Art Hamman at short and Gerald Alfrey at third. Carl Wallace is his first string pitcher with Joe Ireland backing him up. Buddy Jacobs will be behind the plate.

In the outfield, Lutz is pretty well set with Bert Garrett in left, but the other spots may be alternated between Ireland, Dick Garrett, Bob Clark, Forrest Smith and Bob Thomas.

3 Mansfield Fighters On Galion Show

Three Friendly House fighters will take part in the VFW amateur boxing show set for 8:15 tonight in the Galion armory.

Lofton Fuqua, hard-hitting F-H welterweight will be shooting for his eighth straight victory when he meets George Badgley of Toledo in one of the feature events on the card.

Bill Eberhardt will meet Carrol Combs of Marion in another bout, while Ulysses Calloway, knocked out in his last two fights will meet Roy Smith of Galion. Eberhardt has won 18 of 23 bouts.

Bill "Red" Mathias, Galion's Ohio AAU heavyweight champ, was to have a place on the card if matchmaker Joe Pangallo could find a last minute opponent for him. Pangallo was after a Toledo boy.

The Friendly House battle royal kids will make their first out-of-town appearance as a part of a junior show. A pair of paper-weights, 10-year old Ted and Ned Neely of Galion, will slug it out in another part.

Other bouts on the card are: Bob Peters, Toledo, vs. Howard Dixon, Galion; Bill Miller, Marion, vs. Bill Larue, Galion; Joe Stykeman, Toledo vs. Ken Jones, Galion; Ray Ulis, Toledo, vs. Dick James, Marion; Jack Hathaway, Galion, vs. Bill Obenour, Marion.

Ohio Staters Play Wesleyan

DELAWARE — (UP) — Coach Floyd Stahl's Ohio State baseball nine, considered the team to beat in the western conference, open the 1949 season today with a non-conference tilt against Ohio Wesleyan's battling Bishops.

The Buckeye's invade the Wesleyan stronghold with a successful three wins against two losses in their recent swing through Texas.

Wesleyan Coach Bill Daugherty probably will start Bill Reeves on the mound. Reeves, a big right-handed sophomore is considered the top man on the Bishops hurling crew.

Veterans starting for Wesleyan include Charles Campbell, third baseman from Mansfield.

Sid Gordon Knocks 11 Out of Park

NEW YORK—(AP)—Sid Gordon is the lone major league home run hitter living up to his reputation this spring.

Socking Sidney, one of 17 players who hit 20 or more homers last year, has belted 11 out of the park for the New York Giants in this conditioning period.

The Giant third baseman, who hit 30 home runs last year, has hit two for the circuit in one game three times in exhibition games.

Gordon's teammate, Johnny Mize, who tied Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner for the league crown at 40 each last year, has socked five in grapefruit league competition. Mize seldom hits for distance during the training grind. He got four last spring. Kiner has three homers to his credit, including a grand slam poke.

Stan Musial, who walloped 39 homers for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1948, also has hit the jackpot only three times so far. Hank Sauer, the Cincinnati mauler, has slammed three homers, quite a drop from his pace of last summer when he connected for 35.

Joe DiMaggio, who led the American league in home runs with 39 last year, still is looking for his first 1949 home run.

Shelby Blues Nine To Open Schedule At Home May 15

SHELBY — The Shelby Blues amateur baseball team will open its 1949 season against the Shelby Settlement May 15.

Dean Nelson, business agent and publicity manager, wants to book games with teams in the Mansfield area. Nelson may be reached at Shelby 534-R or write to him at his E. Whitney street address.

Included on the Blues' schedule is a contest with the Akron Borden Autos, Aug. 14, in Shelby.

Coach Russell Brown, Blues infield star of two decades ago, has called the first practice for the week of April 17.

Listed on the Blues roster are: pitchers, Herb Hart and Bill Britt; catcher, Mel Biglin; infielders, Ralph Higgins, Jake Gates, Bob Baker, Carl Harrington, Jim Stein, George Zeiters and Dick Seitz; outfielders, Bob Perman and Don Zeiters.

Richland C League Takes Pin Laurels

The Richland C Handicap league took top billing over its big brother, the Richland A, last night as it came up with the top score of the evening.

Farrell Hipp, rolling with Saltzgaber Drilling, racked up 215-206-190—611.

Gene Rudolph, Charm Fashion, had 224-155-189—568, while Gene Menke, News Journal No. 1, came in with 169-194-182—545. Jack Menke of the N-J team chipped in with a 525 while Marty Paheis Mansfield Lumber, had a 517.

Two News-Journal No. 2 men, Don Miller and Bob Boyd, were next with 509 and 504. Don, somehow, was headed the wrong way as he had games of 223, 166 and 120.

The three top teams all won two of three games as Charm Fashion maintained its one-game lead over Veterans' Cab and Schenk's Refinishing.

Oak Park Tavern broke a deadlock for the Richland A lead by sweeping three games from Mansfield Sanitary Pottery. Kozak's, which had been tied with Oak Park, dropped two games to Ohio Sport Center.

Win Cleckner of Kozak's led the league with 178-208-204—590 but had little support from his mates. Orlie Grable, Richland Recreation, was runner-up with 572. Abie Keefer, Oak Park, had 568; W. Huck, Sport Center, 544; Militello and Clow, sons of Italy, 532 and 513. John Eliot, Morgan's Cleaners, had 527.

The league has two more weeks to run.

★

Two teams provided all of the top scores in the Women's Variety circuit. Garnet Karl of Farmer's Market had 177-160-211—548 while two of her mates—Donna Schuster and Dot McDevitt—had 522 and 483 respectively.

Frankie Mitsch's Corner Store featured Helen Kurek with 509, Betty Bishop, 503, and Martha Dye, 495. Helen had a 200.

The Mitsch's quintet increased its league lead over National Cash Register by taking three straight from Waldman Meats. NCR won only two-of-three from Larimore Realty.

Bert Bernet, Penn Auto, wrapped games of 134 and 99 around a 190 and wound up with a 423.

★

One honor roll score was posted at Colony—a 601 by Lloyd Linkhart of Mansfield Tire in the Commercial C league. Linkhart had games of 182, 165 and 182.

J. Schmidt, Mansfield Tire, took down second spot with 587 while Bob Hilborn, Tinkey Lumber posted 570. John Speck had 565 for Frisch Grocery, and Don Dancer 561 for Pioneer Printing.

Other scores included: Don Handwork, Independent Towel, 544; Frank Kearns, Frisch Grocery, 542; Earl Lucas, Tinkey's, 541; Emmett McIntire, Urschel's 537; and Bill Black jr., Wolford's, 535.

★

A close race in the Mansfield Tire Women's league was won by Christine Au as she posted 440. Jane Miles had 436, Maryalice Danals had 434, and Ann Shirkey, 432. Mildred Roof rounded out the first five with 408.

★

Jim Amsbaugh led the John Simpson league in which only one match was rolled. Amsbaugh had a 413 series to top Keith Goff's 314.

Wagner Upsets Artie Levine

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Because he could take it, light heavyweight Dick Wagner of Portland, Ore., upset the odds last night and won a popular but split decision over Brooklyn's Artie Levine, a 3-2 favorite.

The two fighters finished the 10 rounds so weak they hardly could stand. Wagner weighed 171; Levine, 168.

Wagner stalked and crowded Levine throughout, but in doing so took some of the flatbush fighter's hardest punches—and Levine showed up as the harder hitter of the two. The two judges gave the nod to Wagner 6-4 and 7-3, while the referee called it 5-4 for Levine with one round even There was no knockdown

In a drab 10-round light-heavyweight semi-final, Chuck Hunter, 166, of Cleveland loafed to a unanimous decision over Chubby Wright, 168, of Reading, Pa.

Amvet Ball Session

Candidates for the Amvets softball team have been asked to attend an organizational meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 at the clubrooms. Only Amvets members may tryout for the team.

NBA to Lift Restriction On Graziano

NEW YORK—(UP)—The National Boxing association today prepared to lift its ban on tempestuous Rocky Graziano and the former middleweight champion probably will celebrate his "coming out" party by meeting Omaha's Vince Foster sometime this summer in an outdoor ring.

Abe Greene, NBA commissioner, said today the restriction on Graziano will be lifted "automatically" as soon as the California athletic commission rescinds its ban on the "bad-boy" New Yorker within the next two weeks.

Graziano and his manager, Irving Cohen, laid the groundwork for Rocky's clean bill of health by paying California Promoter Jimmy Murray $7,200 last week. The money was paid Murray for expenses incurred when Graziano failed to go through with a bout against Fred Apostoli at Oakland, Calif., last December. It was for that runout that Rocky was suspended by the NBA.

"As soon as the California commission lifts its suspension, we will also lift ours automatically," Greene said.

Meanwhile, a Tournament of Champions' spokesman revealed that Foster has been offered a $50,000 guarantee to meet Graziano in an outdoor ring this summer. Foster is coming east to discuss the proposal and if the bout is arranged, it probably will be held in Jersey City's Roosevelt stadium.

LAST BATTLE

Graziano fought his last bout June 10, 1948, when he lost the middleweight crown to Tony Zale in a three-round knockout at Newark, N. J.

While waiting to fight Apostoli in Oakland last December Rocky suddenly and secretively boarded a plane and returned to New York. He claimed he was not in the proper frame of mind to go through with a bout at that time.

Madison Baseball Club Plays On Road Today

Madison high school's baseball team will invade North Robinson today for the final test against Senior high Thursday. North Robinson is Crawford county champion.

Madison has lost to Galion and won from Lucas.

Westlake Hitting Well For Pirates In Spring Games

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. — (AP) — Wally Westlake, husky outfielder who was sniffing the trade winds with apprehension a year ago, may provide the answer to the Pittsburgh Prates' pennant hopes.

Westlake has been hitting the grapefruit league pitchers as if he owned them and he's always been a dependable man in the outfield. Manager Billy Meyer says "this is Westlake's year" and if the sophomore Buc manager is correct it could easily be "the Pirates' year."

In 69 trips, Westlake has compiled a .406 batting average. That's second only to catcher Eddie Fitzgerald who has hit .435 in 24 appearances.

Meyer says Westlake has continued to show all-round improvement this spring. Eight of his 28 hits have gone for extra bases and he's driven in 18 runs, more than any other Pirate.

Japanese Want In Next Olympics

TOKYO — (INS) — A leading Japanese sports figure completed plans today for a flight to Rome on a mission which may determine whether Japanese will be allowed to take part in the 1952 Olympic games at Helsinki.

Matsuzo Nagai, Japanese member of the International Olympic committee, said he will leave Tokyo Thursday to attend the committee's six-day meeting which opens in Rome April 24.

Archie Moore Kayoes Bivins

TOLEDO — (AP) — Light heavyweight Archie Moore—his sixth consecutive knockout under his belt—toyed today with the idea of tackling the winner of the Maxim-Lesnevich bout, scheduled in Cincinnati May 23.

Moore kayoed Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland last night in 2:04 of the eighth round in a scheduled 10-rounder.

The Toledoan's manager, Charley Johnson, told newsmen later he would try to arrange a shot at the winner of the Maxim-Lesnevich bout.

Moore weighed 172 to Bivins' 185½. Referee Lou Mauder chalked up seven rounds for Moore and one for Bivins.

Fight Results

By the Associated Press

OMAHA—Sugar Ray Robinson, 153¾, New York, outpointed Don Lee, 159¼, Edison, Neb., 10.

CLEVELAND—Dick Wagner, 171, Portland, Ore., outpointed Artie Levine, 168, Brooklyn, 10.

CHICAGO—Luther Rawlings, 140, Chicago, knocked out Leroy Willis, 153, Detroit, 6.

Toledo, O.—Archie Moore, 172, Toledo, knocked out Jimmy Bivins, 185½, Cleveland, 8.

Midget Promoter Sets Free Race

TOLEDO — (AP) — The midget auto race promoter didn't think the public got its money's worth in his first venture here Sunday so next Sunday he's letting everyone in free.

"It was our own fault," promotor Skip Jechura, whose full time job is tavernkeeping, said. "We put a lot of new earth on the track to flatten it out and then found we were unable to pack it down hard enough. It was soft and loose, making it extremely difficult for the drivers."

Committee to Meet

The softball committee of the Mansfield Athletic commission will meet at 7:30 tonight at the Recreational department offices.

During the off-season, the Hialeah horse racing strip is plowed and planted in vegetables.

Junior Baseball Players Feted

GALION — It was "Baseball night" at the meeting of the Scarborough post of the American Legion last night. The post invited members of its junior baseball team and future players—some as young as seven years—along with their fathers.

The assembly was addressed by Pete DeWeese, state director of junior activities of the Legion who discussed the junior baseball program. Movies of the 1948 Worlds Series were shown.

British Champion Routs Arnone In 2

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — Arthur King, British empire lightweight champ, routed New Orleans' Anthony Arnone in a brief but bloody two rounds last night at the Philadelphia arena.

King sent Arnone sprawling for the full count at 1:04 of the second round — after downing him for three, eight and nine counts, and opening a deep cut on Arnone's forehead.

Shoults Signs Up

OXFORD — (AP) — Paul Shoults, captain of Miami university's football team last year and leading scorer and ground gainer in the mid-American conference, said today he had signed a contract with the New York Bulldogs of the national professional football league's eastern division.

First Sackers Playing Outfield

By LAWTON CARVER

(INS Sports Editor)

NEW YORK — Two of the best first basemen in the Major leagues are slated to start this season in the outfield — where they are equally good or better — and this serves to accent the fact that good first basemen are a scarce commodity.

Stan Musial, of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Tommy Henrich, of the New York Yankees, are expected to be out there on the picket line for their clubs at the first bell. But how long they will stay is a moot point.

The Cards and Yanks are among the teams vitally in need of agile, strapping, hitting fellows to hold down the chores at first base in at least a fair imitation of the way it should be done.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who profess to be among the pennant contenders — and are supported in their optimism by some outside observers — are undecided at the moment whether they will put a catcher or an outfielder at first base.

The one thing certain about the situation at the moment is that Branch Rickey will not draft himself to hold down the spot. Any other stopgap is possible.

The Yankees, who hope to stir up some contention in the American league, don't want to call Henrich in from the outfield again, but are uncertain as to whether third baseman Bill Johnson or any one of a half dozen others can fill the need at first.

The Boston Red Sox are going to depend until further notice upon Walter (Primo) Dropo, the 6 foot, 5 inch rookie.

The world-champion Cleveland Indians have Mickey Vernon, ex-Washington Senator, the first base; the Boston Braves, champs of their league, have Earl Torgeson: the Philadelphia A's will go with Ferris Fain, and the rest hope for the best.

Johnny Mize, of the Giants will knock down fences, but as a fielder has slowed to a trot; Phil Cavaretta, of the Cubs, will field for you 'till the cows come home, but will drive in only 50 runs or so.

What some of us would like to know is this:

Where can you find a Bill Terry, George Sisler, Hank Greenberg, Lou Gehrig, Dolph Camilli, Jim Bottomley, Wally Pipp, Long George Kelly, or a Charlie Grimm, not to mention the chases, chances and McGinnesses?

Cincy Reds Blank Minor League Club, 11 to 0

Touring Baseball Citrus Loop Camps

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (INS) — Kent Peterson, Howard Fox and Harry Gumbert were to be on the mound for the Reds today as the Cincinnatians moved into Louisville to resume big league exhibition play against the Phillies.

Catcher Homer Howell cleaned the bases twice yesterday with long doubles, driving in six runs as the Reds blanked the Montgomery, Ala., Rebels, 11-0.

Meanwhile, the big problem before the Rhinelanders was whether Pitcher Johnny Vander Meer would be ready to open against the Cardinals a week from today at Crosley field.

The left-hander pulled a muscle in his right thigh last week end and it turned out to be more serious than anyone thought. He hasn't been in uniform since.

Howell's big breaks came yesterday in the sixth and eighth. Cincinnati nicked three of the Rebels' minor league pitchers for 11 hits.

Red Lively handed the Rebels five hits—their only ones—and four walks in the seven innings he pitched before yielding the mound to Frank Fanovich.

★

Bauer Hits Well . . .

FT. WORTH, Tex.—(AP)—Hank Bauer, filling in for the ailing Joe DiMaggio, is hitting at a wicked clip for the New York Yankees.

Bauer homered and singled in three trips to the plate yesterday after relieving DiMaggio in the Yanks' 9-6 triumph over the Dallas Eagles at Dallas. Bauer now has hit safely in six of his last seven times at bat.

Meet Senators . . .

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, who have been feasting on minor league opposition, take on the Washington Senators today. The Brooks haven't faced a major league foe since March 27 when they were beaten, 3-1, by the Philadelphia Athletics.

★

Rowe Wants Baseball . .

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—Schoolboy Rowe isn't ready to quit baseball just yet.

The Philadelphia Phillies hurler revealed yesterday he had turned down an offer of $14,500 a year to act as a good-will ambassador for an automotive concern and would remain in baseball—at least another year.

★

Pitching Fails . . .

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers continue their series with Southern association clubs with an exhibition tonight against the Chattanooga Lookouts.

Tiger pitching failed at critical times yesterday as the Memphis Chicks rallied twice to knot the score. The teams finally had to settle for an 8-8 tie when darkness halted the contest at the end of 13 innings.

Series Deadlocked . . .

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(UP)—With their series deadlocked at three games apiece, both the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago White Sox were looking for victory number four today. The two clubs were to have met in the seventh game of the spring series at Mobile yesterday but rain cancelled the contest.

★

Leaves Giants . . .

JACKSON, Miss.—(UP)—The New York Giants today were without the services of Catcher Walker Cooper, who has left the team for St. Louis where he will undergo a checkup of his ailing knee.

A's Still Lead Big Leaguers In Exhibitions

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics, for the fourth consecutive week, today rode at the top of the American League in exhibition play.

Connie Mack's crew won five games without suffering a setback during the week to boost its record to 20 victories against six defeats for a .769 mark. The A's have scored 13 of their victories against minor league teams.

Meanwhile, Brooklyn stayed in front in the National League. The Dodgers also have posted 13 triumphs against minor league opposition. The Brooks scored nine straight against minor league foes before the Atlanta Crackers of the southern association dumped them twice over the weekend.

16 Youngsters Battle For Cue Championship

NEW YORK — (INS) — Sixteen boys between the ages of 13 and 17 will begin play today in the final rounds of the National Pocket Billiard tournament of the boys' clubs of America.

They are survivors of an original entry of 7,233 lads throughout the nation.

GRIP'S THE THING—Something new has been added to bowling grips. Joe Wilman, former National match-game champion and an 225-average bowler in Chicago leagues, suffered arthritis in the middle finger on his right hand. He had the ball bored so his grip would consist of the thumb plus the ring and little finger. It hasn't hurt a bit.

Red Sox Picked to Shade Cleveland In 2-Club Race

By JACK HAND

ORANGEBURG, S. C.—(AP)—It looks from here like the Boston Red Sox over the Cleveland Indians in a two-club race for the American league pennant.

New York and possibly Philadelphia have a look-in on the big prize but the Red Sox and Indians carry the heavy guns. Detroit needs plenty of breaks to figure in the race and St. Louis, Washington and Chicago are in over their heads.

The Oct. 2 finish (not guaranteed):

1. Boston,
2. Cleveland,
3. New York,
4. Philadelphia,
5. Detroit,
6. St. Louis,
7. Washington,
8. Chicago.

A year ago most American league owners feared a Boston runaway and hoped the Yanks could make it a race. Cleveland, with all its veterans having their best years, upset the apple cart.

Now the Yanks, with Joe DiMaggio still the big question mark, are an uncertain factor. Boston and Cleveland are the team to beat.

If the Red Sox get consistent pitching they have the power to break the race wide open. The big bats of Ted Williams, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr pack a tremendous wallop.

Joe McCarthy, starting his second year as Sox manager, figures to get more pitching help from Tex Hughson and Mickey Harris, who were of little value last season. Jack Kramer, Joe Dobson and Mel Parnell form the nucleus of a pretty fair staff. Hughson can make all the difference if he pitches up to his spring form.

BETTER PITCHING

Cleveland should get much better pitching than the Sox from Bob Feller, Gene Bearden, Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek. Manager Lou Boudreau, the "player of the year" in 1948, fields the best infield in baseball unless veterans Ken Keltner and Joe Gordon slip.

Boston, left at the post in 1948, should improve on its start but hardly can better its July and August performance. The Indians left [illegible] going into Fenway Park and beating the Red Sox in their own back yard in the tie playoff game for the pennant.

Another year like 1948 for Boudreau, Keltner, Gordon, Mitchell, Lemon and Bearden and the Indians are "in." That seems to be asking too much.

The Yankee fortunes really hinge on DiMaggio, slow to recuperate after an operation for removal of a spur from his heel.

Without DiMag, the Yanks are just another club with good pitching. With the Yankee clipper clicking on all cylinders, they could be in the race again.

New Londoners Slate Drills

NEW LONDON — First call for practice of the New London Merchants baseball club has be made for 6 p. m. April 20 at Recreation center diamond.

Manager Al Walters expects the same squad as last year but has invited anyone interested to be on hand for the opening practice.

The New London season opens May 8 at North Fairfield with the succeeding four Sundays scheduled at Shiloh, Mansfield Penn Auto, New Washington and Akron. Beginning Wednesday June 15, the Merchants will be at home twice weekly for night games.

Hall Booked For 3rd Try At Dutchman

Stacy Hall, apparently recovered from an injury received in the Mansfield ring two weeks ago, will be back Saturday night to meet his nemesis—Whitey Whittler—at the Ashland road armory.

A Columbus city detective by profession, Hall has been cleaning up extra "dough" in the grunt and groan business. But Whittler seems to have the "monkey sign" on Stacy. They've met twice in Mansfield with Whittler coming out on top by dubious methods both times.

The last time out, Whittler got so rough that Harold Bloodgood, Mansfield boxing and wrestling commissioners, held up his purse. Bloodgood ruled today that the Dutchman will get his share, provided he meets Hall again. So promoter Clete Kauffman arranged the "grudge" match for Saturday night over the two-of-three falls route.

In the deciding fall two weeks ago, blood-covered Whittler put a little too much steam and twisted Hall's left hip out of place. This bit of mat mayhem caused Bloodgood to hold up Whittler's cut.

Hall has been taking treatments for the injury and says he's ready to go again.

Kauffman will round out the program with two preliminary matches. Tickets are on sale at City News.

Syracuse university's boxing and wrestling teams both won eastern titles this season.

College Athletes May Sign Income Statement

CHICAGO (UP) — College athletics may some day be required to sign a statement as to the source of their incomes while in school, the president of the National Collegiate Athletic association said today.

Dr. Karl Leib, the NCAA head, added, "falsification of the statements would be cause for expulsion."

Washington College Signs New Grid Coach

CHESTERTOWN, Md. — (AP) — Washington college has announced the appointment of Dominick (Tim) Montero as its football coach.

The 30-year-old Montero, a former LaSalle college grid star, now is coach at the St. James Catholic school for boys in Chester, Pa. He will assume his new duties in fall.

Through Thick and Thin Rolls the Kentucky Derby

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK —(UP)— The Kentucky Derby has been running without interruption for 75 years and, considering that Col. Matt Winn has seen them all, it doesn't sound like a long time—if you say it fast.

It is only when you read Brownie Leach's "Kentucky Derby Diamond Jubilee," a collector's item, that the rose run's storied history—and the events it spans—hits you with a solid impact.

Aristides, the little red horse, won that first derby in 1875. He was owned by Price McGrath, a 49'er who struck gold in New York. And it was McGrath who explained that for "two and a half cents I was denied an education." He gave a neighbor a dime to bring him a spelling book from the city The neighbor returned the dime "because the book cost 12½ cents."

But McGrath did all right. Returning from the gold fields, he opened a gambling house in New York and made $10,000 in one night. So McGrath went back to Kentucky, became a breeder and raised Aristides.

When the little red horse scampered home on top in that first derby, U. S Grant was President of the United States. General Custer was a year away from his "last stand" on the Little Big Horn, and before that fatal day Vagrant had won the second derby.

The fourth derby, with its start to finish triumph for Day Star, was written into the chart books when Edison conducted his first successful experiment with incandescent lighting. And, as Lord Murphy romped home in the fifth derby in 1879, the five and ten cent store was born in Lancaster, Pa., and the first cash register started ringing.

Fonso was the winner in the sixth of his storied series. That was 1880, when Buffalo Bill Cody launched his famous wild west show and Frank and Jesse James were being pursued after another holdup.

Louisville streets leading to the track weren't paved like those of today when Hindoo bounced home in 1881. And the next year, as Apollo won the eighth running, the French started their seven-year unsuccessful attempt to build the Panama Canal; F. D. R. was born, the poets Longfellow and Emerson died.

The race already was 15 years old when John L. Sullivan beat Jake Kilrain in the last bare-knuckle heavyweight fight, 16 years old when U. S. troops fought the last Indian war against the Sioux, and 52 years old when Gene Tunney upset Jack Dampsey in their first fight.

Three wars and innumerable successes and disasters have come and gone—and the derby still goes on, bigger and better every year. Small wonder it is one of the top sporting events of the year.

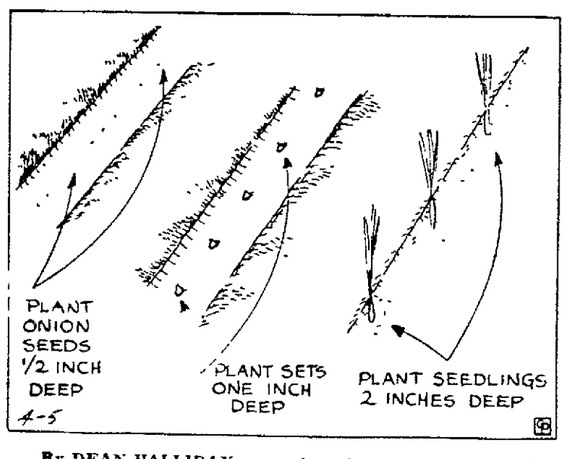
Onions Need Early Planting



By DEAN HALLIDAY
Distributed by
Central Press Association

GET AN EARLY start with onions if you want a good crop They must get their growth well along during the cool season of spring. Seeds should be planted now if the soil is not too wet

There are so many varieties of onions that it is possible to have an early, a medium and a late crop.

Like any other seed put into the ground early, while the weather is cold and the soil likely to be wet, onion seed should be treated with a seed protectant before planting. Your seed store can tell you what to use.

Plant onion seeds in drills one-half inch deep, and three or four seeds per inch, as illustrated in the accompanying [illegible] Graph.

Unless onion seeds are planted early in April in northerly latitudes, it is advisable to grow them from sets or transplants

Onion sets are planted three to four inches apart as illustrated, then covered with one inch of soil Sets will mature earlier than plants grown from seed

Don't buy onion sets that are too small, but don't get them too big. If they are ½ to ¾ of an inch, they are just right

Onion transplants, or seedlings can be had in early spring from seed stores In replanting they should be set four inches apart, and two inches deep in the soil, as illustrated

Onions like a fine, fertile soil, well drained Frequent shallow cultivation is necessary to keep them free from weeds.

They are recommended for the home garden because they have many uses and they don't take up much space.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Religious Faiths Hit In Poland

New Primate Keeping 'Mum'

WARSAW — (AP) — The undeclared war between church and state in Poland is growing more bitter, but the new Catholic primate is holding his fire.

Dr. Stefan Wyszynski, created archbishop of Gniezno and Warsaw and primate of Poland only a few weeks ago, thus far has remained personally silent on the rapidly widening rift between church and state.

It is no secret, however, that he doesn't like what is happening in this 96 per cent Catholic country under a communist-led government. Likewise, it is obvious that he has given the nod to Catholic bishops who are boldly criticizing the government in pastoral letters.

The most recent letter was issued by Bishop Stanislaw Adamski of the Katowice diocese who charged the government was abolishing the teaching of religion in the schools and removing crucifixes from schoolrooms.

The government promptly denied this.

Catholic circles claimed 34 priests were seized by security police for reading the pastoral letter. The government denied knowledge of such arrests.

But that's only part of the story. Tall, blond, blue-eyed 47-year-old Archbishop Wyszynski knows there's tough sledding ahead.

Here are some of the reasons: The government says it does not interfere in any way with the Catholic church and its activities. Simultaneously, it has promised "severe punishment" for those priests who use their pulpits for political purposes.

Priests complain they are not permitted to visit the condemned in prisons.

FLOWER OF THE WEEK—Some of those Easter lilies you see this week may be from this very field at Cypress Gardens, Fla. Nance Hains' presence among the seasonal posies is certainly no detraction.

WILL PAY EASTER BONUS

EAST LIVERPOOL — (AP) — An Easter bonus of three months back wage increases will be paid to 110 municipal employes April 15.

Get Prizes Tomorrow

Senior high school students who were winners in the recent American Legion essay contest will be given their awards tomorrow morning at a student assembly.

The awards will be presented by Dwight McCullough, former commander of the Earl D. McVey Post, American Legion. At the same assembly, McCullough will present the school with a new flag, to fly on the flag pole in front of the building.

At the assembly, set for 11 a. m., the following students will get awards, ranging from $5 for first prize, $3 for second and $2 for third: Joy McCoy, first, John Carl Peirce, second, and Thomas Plaut, third, in the 10th grade;

Ronald Denis first David Harnly, second, and James Geiger, third, in the 11th grade; Norma McCally, first, Virginia Brownfield, second and Patricia Robnolte, third, in the 12th grade.

Twelfth grade boys include: George Freund, second, and Harold Leiendecker, third.

Truck Crushes Man

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Finley Kiser, 46, of Williamsburg, was injured fatally yesterday when he was crushed by his runaway truck. The parked truck rolled backwards, police said.

Pact Opens Method For Settlement

Blocs Have Role In U. N. Operation

The Atlantic pact will have to be explained to the General Assembly of the United Nations and the sooner we say that we shall argue our case in a full and open debate, the better. Certainly we should not wait to be challenged by Andrei Gromyko and then, having been called to account, present our case in the form of a mere rebuttal.

All the United Nations, not only the Soviet Union and its allies, have a right to an accounting, and it is our duty to them and to ourselves to make that accounting. The burden of proof is clearly upon us, and any appearance of evading our obligation to explain, or of quibbling about texts, can only undermine popular confidence both in the pact and in the charter.

But while notice should be given at once that we intend to explain, the actual presentation should not be made until our case has been thoroughly prepared. Judging by the documents that have been published by the department of state, our case is not yet ready for argument. That is not because the case itself is not a very good one, but because the ground on which the department has thus far chosen to argue it is soft and slippery.

The weakness of the Department's argument is that it attempts to treat the pact as something which the authors of the charter foresaw and authorized when the United Nations was organized. That is just not so, and the attempt to demonstrate it by a strained construction of articles 51 and 52 will not carry conviction. The formation of this bloc, like the formation of the Soviet bloc which preceded it, is an event which the founders of the organization did not authorize. Indeed, they rejected the idea on principle when it was proposed that they should recognize these developments as inevitable.

The true ground on which to argue the case is not, therefore, that the pact is derived from the charter, but that the formation of these blocs is an historic development, unforeseen and undesired in 1945, to which the United Nations is now compelled to adjust itself.

The U. N., in other words, like all other living organisms, is subject to change. It will not perish because it evolves. It will perish if it does not.

★

THE RELATION of the blocs to the charter is somewhat like that of political parties to our own Constitution. Parties are not recognized in the Constitution: in fact, the founding fathers felt strongly as George Washington put it, about "the danger of parties in the state." Secretary Hull and his expert advisers who dominated the drafting of the charter felt the same way about blocs. There "will no longer be need," said Secretary Hull (March 21, 1944), "for spheres of influence for alliances, for balance of power, or any other of the special arrangements, through which, in the unhappy past, the nations strove to safeguard their security or to promote their interests."

But though the founding fathers deplored the existence of parties, very soon they found themselves forming parties. So with the United Nations. The "special arrangements"— that is to say the grouping of nations in blocs — which Mr. Hull and his contemporaries deplored have been made by their immediate successors.

The Atlantic bloc is not the first to have been formed within the United Nations. The Soviet bloc came first. There are also other blocs. There is an Arab bloc. There is something that can fairly be described as a Latin American bloc. There is manifestly in the making some kind of South Asian bloc.

It is a waste of time to deplore those blocs and to inveigh against them. These blocs, and not the fifty-odd separate, sovereign and theoretically equal states, are the actual members of the United Nations. That is not what the charter says. That is not what its original authors meant. But that is what the organization has become — what in the view of some of us it was always bound to become.

For a world organization designed to operate by the collective action of more than fifty separate states as different in size, power and internal structure as the Soviet Union and Yemen, the United States and Bulgaria, China and Sweden, is an abstraction and a fiction. It never could hope to deal with the real conflicts of mankind. They can be dealt with only by the great historic communities of nations that have developed through vital necessity and by common tradition over long periods of time.

The function of a world organization is to promote agreement among these communities. It can perform the function only if it recognizes that they exist, not by wringing its hands and wishing that they did not exist.

As a matter of fact a negotiated settlement with the Soviet Union is more feasible now that the North Atlantic military powers are united, and can, as regards the fundamental military settlement with Russia, negotiate for the whole Atlantic community.

The crucial issue on which a settlement depends is whether honorable and acceptable terms can be found for the evacuation of Central and eastern Europe by the Soviet armies. That is the issue which remains unsettled from the second World War and must be settled if there is not to be a third. When the Russian armies, now in the middle of Europe, go home, the second World War will have been concluded and the third will have been averted.

The North Atlantic pact makes it more possible to settle that issue, not only because in unity there is strength for bargaining as well as for war, but for another and no less important reason. The Western nations have been afraid of a German settlement which would have meant the withdrawal of the Russian army but also of the American. They were disunited. They feared the resurgence of Germany or the capture of Germany by the Communists. They have less reason now to fear a settlement. There are, to be sure, risks in any settlement. But the risks will be greatly reduced as the Western nations become more united.

HOW DR. EDWARDS' HELPED ME LICK CONSTIPATION

the clogging, TRANSIENT kind!

"Whenever undigested food clogs my intestines and causes constipation with its bad breath, lack of pep, sallow skin—I rely on Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They always work so gently yet thoroughly giving such complete, more natural-like bowel movements!"

For years, Dr. F. M. Edwards, a noted Ohio Doctor, successfully relieved his constipated patients with his famous Olive Tablets—now sold by druggists. Olive Tablets are a strictly all vegetable formula. They act on BOTH upper and lower bowels and clean waste from entire intestinal tract. Follow directions. 15¢, 30¢

Army Quotas Boosted In City Area

Recruiting Center Asked For More Men

Larger quotas for Army enlistments in Mansfield were announced today by Master Sgt. Charles W. Bates, non-commissioned officer in charge of the Mansfield Army receuiting station.

Sgt. Bates said the exact number of men to be signed up here has not been announced, but the Canton recruiting station which serves this area informed him there would be a "substantial" increase.

Four men entered the army here during the first week of April as compared with only eight during all of March.

In announcing that more men could enlist in the Army, beginning May 1 than in any of the past three months, Bates also announced a new program for Aviation Cadets.

Master Sgt. B. G. Blake, of the Canton Army recruiting station, will be in Mansfield April 20 to interview men interested in becoming an officer in the U. S. Air Force.

Men in the 20-to-26 year age group have been asked to contact M-Sgt. Bates at the Army recruiting office, 31½ North Main street, before April 20 to make an appointment for an interview with the Aviation Cadet recruiter.

Bates advised men wishing to join the Army under the new quota to place their names on file at the Army office now. There still is a waiting list for enlistees and it's "First come, first served."

Gives Talk On Fruit

Carl Ellenwood, associate horticulturist at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster, addressed the Mansfield Exchange club yesterday on various phases of fruit growing in Ohio and other parts of the nation.

Ellenwood told the club how the weather is the most important factor in determining the price of peaches and other Ohio-grown fruits.

By contrast, he explained how too much cold weather in Ohio will kill off a peach crop during the winter, but in South Carolina and Georgia a warm winter will produce an irregular bloom in the spring and also make for a poor crop.

Scout Cachet Obtainable

Mansfield stamp collectors have been offered the opportunity to obtain a special cachet of the Boy Scout exposition in Minneapolis, Minn., May 6 and 7 tied in with the Minnesota Centennial now in progress.

Collectors desiring the cachet may send stamped self-addressed envelopes, with two cents to cover sxpenses, to Boy Scout Troop No. 24, Minnehaha Station, Minneapolis, Minn.

It has been suggested the philatelic collectors use the Minnesota Centennial stamp for the purpose.

Brunette's a Bat-Bander!

Pretty Girl Follows Odd Jobs, Hobbies

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON — (UP) — In case you ever want to go bat-banding you might as well follow a pretty girl. One like the lovely brunette named Nancy Rogers, of Washington.

She is:

1.) A bat-bander. 2.) A speleologist. 3.) A former spelunker.

1.) First of all, Nancy is a bacteriologist for the Naval Research department. Her main job is to hunt bugs, not bats. Her second love is her hobby—going into caves and digging through the moss and other interesting stuff in search of bats. She bands them, and how she does it is another part of the story.

2.) Speleologists, of which Nancy is one, are specialists in the science of caves.

3.) A spelunker is an amateur caver—which our Nancy used to be.

The speleologists held a convention here the other day. A couple of hundred folks interested in caves were here. Some were full-time scientists. Many were from the government patent office; folks anxious to crawl out of the dank and dark of the musty files and go underground—or a rest—into places more musty and darker and danker.

Nancy Rogers was one of the half-amateurs, half-pros. She has been down in the depths of a cave many times.

Bats, as anybody who ever looked in a cave for a bat knows, sleep by hanging by their feet.

"We snap a metal band around their 'forearms,'" she said. "We want to see if a bat has a homing instinct and will come back to the same cave year after year. It may be important to science."

Nancy said the speleologists haven't been tagging bats very long, but have learned that they fly to Vermont and New Hampshire to hibernate in the winter —and live 12 to 13 years.

20 Hi-Y Boys to Leave Monday On Motor Trip to Washington

When 20 members of the Senior Hi-Y club start out Monday morning for a week's sight-seeing trip to the nation's capital, they will motor by way of the Pennsylvania turnpike through Gettysburg.

They will stop there for a visit before going on to Washington. Their trip will include visits to the Capital, Annapolis and many more of the historical spots in and near Washington.

The 20 boys include: Warren Alverson, Lewis Bechtel, Earl Brobs, Robert Burkhart, Donald Burkholder, Dick Butts, John Corcoran, Robert Clouse, James Dickson, Richard Dillon, Richard DiSanza, Richard Eliot, Gene Griesbach, Robert Hart, Robert Hawk, Harry McCune, David Oswalt and Philip Pendleton.

The group will be accompanied by Harold Loesch, Senior high teacher, John Fike of the YMCA and Jack Shay, Bowman school teacher.

Make Man Shovel Ton Of Coal In Cash Hunt

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Five hoodlums yesterday invaded the home of James Smith, 60, and forced him to shovel a ton of coal from one side of his coal bin to the other in a search for "hidden" money.

The five took $75 from Smith but failed to find any money in the coal bin. They then cut the phone wires and escaped.

LOST 75 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Mrs. Della Phillebaum, Box 208, West Lafayette, Ohio writes, "I have lost 75 lbs. with Reducel in four months and have never known a hungry moment. I am so much lighter on my feet and have never felt better. Reducel has done a world of good for me."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Reducel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Don't be switched to another product, insist on genuine Reducel. —Adv.

The function of a world organization is to promote agreement among these communities. It can perform the function only if it recognizes that they exist, not by wringing its hands and wishing that they did not exist.

As a matter of fact a negotiated settlement with the Soviet Union is more feasible now that the North Atlantic military powers are united, and can, as regards the fundamental military settlement with Russia, negotiate for the whole Atlantic community.

The crucial issue on which a settlement depends is whether honorable and acceptable terms can be found for the evacuation of Central and eastern Europe by the Soviet armies. That is the issue which remains unsettled from the second World War and must be settled if there is not to be a third. When the Russian armies, now in the middle of Europe, go home, the second World War will have been concluded and the third will have been averted.

The North Atlantic pact makes it more possible to settle that issue, not only because in unity there is strength for bargaining as well as for war, but for another and no less important reason. The Western nations have been afraid of a German settlement which would have meant the withdrawal of the Russian army but also of the American. They were disunited. They feared the resurgence of Germany or the capture of Germany by the Communists. They have less reason now to fear a settlement. There are, to be sure, risks in any settlement. But the risks will be greatly reduced as the Western nations become more united.

Army Quotas Boosted In City Area

Recruiting Center Asked For More Men

Larger quotas for Army enlistments in Mansfield were announced today by Master Sgt. Charles W. Bates, non-commissioned officer in charge of the Mansfield Army receuiting station.

Sgt. Bates said the exact number of men to be signed up here has not been announced, but the Canton recruiting station which serves this area informed him there would be a "substantial" increase.

Four men entered the army here during the first week of April as compared with only eight during all of March.

In announcing that more men could enlist in the Army, beginning May 1 than in any of the past three months, Bates also announced a new program for Aviation Cadets.

Master Sgt. B. G. Blake, of the Canton Army recruiting station, will be in Mansfield April 20 to interview men interested in becoming an officer in the U. S. Air Force.

Men in the 20-to-26 year age group have been asked to contact M-Sgt. Bates at the Army recruiting office, 31½ North Main street, before April 20 to make an appointment for an interview with the Aviation Cadet recruiter.

Bates advised men wishing to join the Army under the new quota to place their names on file at the Army office now. There still is a waiting list for enlistees and it's "First come, first served."

Gives Talk On Fruit

Carl Ellenwood, associate horticulturist at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster, addressed the Mansfield Exchange club yesterday on various phases of fruit growing in Ohio and other parts of the nation.

Ellenwood told the club how the weather is the most important factor in determining the price of peaches and other Ohio-grown fruits.

By contrast, he explained how too much cold weather in Ohio will kill off a peach crop during the winter, but in South Carolina and Georgia a warm winter will produce an irregular bloom in the spring and also make for a poor crop.

Scout Cachet Obtainable

Mansfield stamp collectors have been offered the opportunity to obtain a special cachet of the Boy Scout exposition in Minneapolis, Minn., May 6 and 7 tied in with the Minnesota Centennial now in progress.

It has been suggested the philatelic collectors use the Minnesota Centennial stamp for the purpose.

Brunette's a Bat-Bander!

Pretty Girl Follows Odd Jobs, Hobbies

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON — (UP) — In case you ever want to go bat-banding you might as well follow a pretty girl. One like the lovely brunette named Nancy Rogers, of Washington.

She is:

1.) A bat-bander. 2.) A speleologist. 3.) A former spelunker.

1.) First of all, Nancy is a bacteriologist for the Naval Research department. Her main job is to hunt bugs, not bats. Her second love is her hobby—going into caves and digging through the moss and other interesting stuff in search of bats. She bands them, and how she does it is another part of the story.

2.) Speleologists, of which Nancy is one, are specialists in the science of caves.

3.) A spelunker is an amateur caver—which our Nancy used to be.

The speleologists held a convention here the other day. A couple of hundred folks interested in caves were here. Some were full-time scientists. Many were from the government patent office; folks anxious to crawl out of the dank and dark of the musty files and go underground—or a rest—into places more musty and darker and danker.

Nancy Rogers was one of the half-amateurs, half-pros. She has been down in the depths of a cave many times.

Bats, as anybody who ever looked in a cave for a bat knows, sleep by hanging by their feet.

"We snap a metal band around their 'forearms,'" she said. "We want to see if a bat has a homing instinct and will come back to the same cave year after year. It may be important to science."

Nancy said the speleologists haven't been tagging bats very long, but have learned that they fly to Vermont and New Hampshire to hibernate in the winter—and live 12 to 13 years.

LOST 75 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Mrs. Della Phillabaum, Box 205, West Lafayette, Ohio writes, "I have lost 75 lbs. with Reducel in four months and have never known a hungry moment. I am so much lighter on my feet and have never felt better. Reducel has done a world of good for me."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Reducel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Don't be switched to another product, insist on genuine Reducel.

Only the Taxpayers Are Overlooked

CONTINUANCE of fuzzy thinking in the administration of government is seen in the new farm program, as recently outlined by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan in a joint meeting of the House and Senate agriculture committees.

The general idea is to maintain high prices for farm products but to assure lower prices to consumers, by the simple device of using taxpayers' money to make up the difference.

As planned, the government would abandon the system of buying up surpluses in order to prevent price drops, and would let "supply and demand" operate in determining prices—merely paying farmers the difference between selling price and what is called a "stable, fair price" for meat, dairy products, eggs, poultry, and the like.

Deep concern is expressed by Secretary Brannan for the farmer and the consumer, but as both of these are also taxpayers, they should feel equally disturbed by such a visionary proposal, which does no more than reflect the absurdity of trying to make people think that they can get "something for nothing."

According to the Associated Press report, Secretary Brannan "said he could give no close estimate at this time as to the cost to taxpayers of operating the new program", which seems to be among the least of the worries of various agencies of government as operating under the "Fair Deal" adaptation of the "New Deal."

Belgium's Economic Problems

ALONE among the beneficiaries of the Marshall Plan, Belgium may be said to have made a full economic recovery. Production is up to or above pre-war levels, unemployment figures are low, exports and imports are properly balanced, tax receipts are ample to cover drains on the budget, and prices are at a satisfactory level.

Nevertheless, in spite of this internal stability, economic problems exist for Belgium. Her strong economy makes her, as one observer says, "an island of free economy in the midst of a controlled world." This controlled world is one in which competition is eliminated by subsidies and other artificial measures, and the countries belonging to it have made much less progress toward achieving the aims of the Marshall Plan.

Belgium has proceeded perhaps as far along the recovery road as she can go without fuller co-operation from her European neighbors, and has begun to seek help from the United States in getting this co-operation.

The time may be ripe for a review of trade policies under the Marshall Plan. If the countries benefiting by the funds are ever to be free from the necessity of dependence on outside aid, their internal stability must be built up to a point where they will be willing to risk free competition and to act together in the interests of general prosperity.

Move To Extend Drivers' Licenses

THE OHIO house of representatives has approved a drivers' license bill that would replace the present one-year permits, costing 40 cents, with licenses good for three years and costing a dollar.

With the government requiring the average citizen to take more and more time to meet requirements of government—preparing tax returns, applying for automobile license tags, registering to vote and numerous other demands—it is high time that something be done to conserve the time of the individual. The proposed bill is a step in that direction.

The trouble is that it doesn't go far enough. At present the average citizen has to visit the stipulated public office at different times of the year to get his automobile tags and his driver's license. Why can't the two be combined?

Obstacle To Rocket Testing Plans

NEW MEXICO cattle men are opposing a government proposal to expand the Army rocket testing grounds, near White Sand. They express fears that 4,000,000 acres of grazing ground, providing a livelihood for 2,500 persons, may be taken over for the proving ground.

The dislocation of 2,500 persons is no small matter. And this nation is not in a position casually to give up any substantial area of food-producing ground to military experiment which, however necessary, is unproductive as far as the feeding and clothing of the population are concerned.

The testing of rockets has been done for the most part on waste land, but now the experimenters want more room, more than is available in otherwise useless areas. Before any productive land is converted into a rocket range the value of this experiment, from both military and civilian standpoint, should be examined very carefully.

Human Relations To Be Studied

THE FIRST Human Relations Center in American higher education is to be set up by Western Reserve University in Cleveland. It will gather materials on the wide assortment of races in the city, form contact with their organizations, and try to eliminate some of the causes of race friction. The center will doubtless feel its way along for a time and its program may be quite different ten years from now.

Interracial adjustments are necessary in the complex civilization of the United States today. They should be studied by trained people, not arrived at by accident or guess. If the Western Reserve venture lives up to the hopes of its founders, it will have more than one imitator.

It somehow seems that Orphan Annie is again moving toward quite a jam—but confidence continues that she will get out of it OK.

What Some Other People Are Saying

Seems To Be Getting Further Away.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Wishful Thinking In Estimating Income

THE FATE of the President's financial predictions now and in the past should make clear to him that in dealing with economic forces he is not fighting a mere Gallup poll.

He is dealing with inexorable facts, not the pre-election guesses of people about how they are going to vote.

From time to time over the past two and a half years, this column has pointed out a basic rule in estimating federal revenues, as compared with national income. That rule is that when inflationary forces operate to produce a rising national income, federal revenues rise at a considerably higher relative rate.

This rule is either unknown to the President's Council of Economic Advisers and Budget Bureau or they have ignored it, because the President's January estimates of income have for the past three years been ridiculously low. In one year he missed by 26 per cent, and in another by 16 per cent.

The rule operates in reverse, of course, when the national income is declining. Federal revenues then decline at a considerably faster relative rate.

Against this background, and taking account of current economic facts, let us see what will happen to the President's estimates for this year and the next.

He estimated that for the year ending June 30, 1949—that is, "Fiscal '49"—there will be a deficit of $600,000,000. For the next year, "Fiscal '50," he estimates another deficit, $873,000,000.

* * *

Mistakes Admitted.

ON THE BASIS of the rule, the deficit for Fiscal '49 will not appear, because the inflationary tide of 1948 will appear to have swept on into the early weeks of this calendar year.

The real blow, however, will fall upon Fiscal '50 when, if the present downward turn in national income continues, federal revenues will sharply decline. The probable deficit will greatly exceed the estimate.

In estimating the prospective national income for this calendar year, the administration indulged in wholly unwarranted wishful thinking, despite many signs that should have been apparent as early as last November. In certain more realistic sections of the government, serious earlier mistakes are being admitted.

The Journal of Commerce of New York reports that the departments of commerce and agriculture are drastically revising their figures on farm income. Instead of an income at an annual rate of $25,100,000,000 as first estimated, the figure is really about $2,000,000,000 less.

The department of commerce is learning that instead of national personal income at a rate of $200,000,000,000, the figure should now be estimated at a considerably lower level.

The S. E. C. at the same time reports a sizable drop in liquid savings by individuals.

A decline in national income will certainly be felt in tax receipts from here on. Increasing tax rates can be no remedy for this situation, because such an increase, as Senator George says, will simply accelerate the deflationary forces now in operation.

Only a sharp revision of the Truman proposals for spending can prevent a deficit or reduce the size of the one which will certainly appear.

It might be added that even in the President's Council of Economic Advisers there are private opinions that unemployment will rise to 4,000,000 in the fall and 6,000,000 next year.

Frankly Speaking

Truman's Four Years

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Four years ago today, April 12, Harry S. Truman became President when President Roosevelt died.

What has he done in those four years, and what has happened to him, us, and the world?

No man who ever became President had to shoulder so many responsibilities so suddenly.

His four years have been years of climaxes, increasing tensions, prosperity, and preparation against war.

When he moved into the White House, war with Germany was ending. Japan was soon to be crushed with the atom bomb, an event that changed world history.

The United Nations was created in the hope it might keep peace. Four years have shown its failure.

And in his first few months in office, the United States had to be set spinning back into peacetime ways. It was done with jolts and jerks.

Wartime controls were ripped off, some too fast. Strikes sprouted, holding up peacetime goods.

The mood in Congress, as the months passed, was to ditch price controls, let prices run free. Mr. Truman warned against it.

His own Democrats were in control of Congress but, spearheaded by the Republicans, they cut the legs from under OPA. It soon died.

Prices shot through the roof, bringing the country a great inflation. They're still skyhigh, may be coming down a bit now.

* * *

Skies Have Darkened.

MR. TRUMAN had tried a honeymoon with Congress in his early days as President. But that ended in a bust and never has been patched up.

Voters, fed up with the Democrats, gave the Republicans control in 1946. It was Mr. Truman's worst defeat.

He reversed that in 1948 with his own election, biggest surprise in American political history. And the Democrats won control of Congress again.

But Congress doesn't seem to be paying much attention to his wishes, at least for things at home.

Long ago he had made it plain he wants to carry on Mr. Roosevelt's New Deal. He has used the name, the Fair Deal.

He's made almost no progress with that in four years. There's no assurance he'll make much more in the next four.

Yet, in spite of his difficulties with Congress, Americans are making more money than ever before. The land is rich, teeming with money, goods, and food.

But meanwhile the skies have darkened beyond the shores. His hopes of getting along with Russia have gone down the drain.

As he watched the Russians swallow eastern Europe, his mood hardened. He set up the Truman doctrine: A policy of blocking Russia wherever it tries to make a thrust.

Under that policy we've helped Greece and Turkey, created the Marshall Plan for helping western Europe, and now we've entered the Atlantic Pact with western Europe to stop Russia with steel if need be.

We've put so much money into military preparations and stopping Russia, all of which mean jobs and production here, it's a question of whether we could afford sudden good relations with Russia.

For that would mean cutting billions upon billions off our defense spending. And what would that do to jobs and production and prosperity here at home?

As Mr. Truman goes into his fifth year in the White House, only four years away from World War II, the air is full of talk of new war. Where we go, no one knows, not even Mr. Truman.

Four Years After Death of Roosevelt

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It seems a long time since that day in April when Franklin Roosevelt passed away. It's only four years, but it seems like ages—ages in which we've sort of lost something . . . the hopes for peace which he cherished for mankind . . . It was a lovely Spring day in April four years ago. The cherry blossoms seemed a little prouder of their beauty. The weeping willow trees along the Potomac drooped a little lower, and the shad came nosing up the muddy waters that FDR loved and so long lived beside a little earlier. It was just the kind of Spring he would have loved.

Then suddenly through the loveliness came that flag-draped caisson bringing the dead warrior home . . . People stood and watched—watched and wept and prayed. They had never met him, many had never seen him, but he belonged to them.

So the dead warrior passed down Constitution avenue, which when he came into office 12 years before had been lined with remnants of the bonus army . . . He had passed down that avenue on a March day 12 years before—when the world seemed falling apart. A ragged homeless army of 20,000 war veterans had even stormed the Capitol and the three drawbridges across the Potomac for the first time in history were raised to keep them out.

Now it was April, 12 years later. The world was on the verge of ending the greatest war in history. America had weathered the storms, but the captain of the ship would not see his vessel dock . . . He had made mistakes, plenty of them. He had his faults—all great men do. He was untrue to his friends—when his friends became liabilities to the public trust . . . . But people overlooked his faults because they knew he was working for them . . . and they knew it would be hard for them to get another such friend.

* * *

Henry Wallace's Calm.

SO AS the caisson passed, the people watched and wept and prayed . . . . . and the Cabinet wept . . . . Henry L. Stimson, nearly eighty, a member of two Republican cabinets, a candidate for governor of New York when FDR was a young and carefree senator in Albany, wept. . . Stimson, who had opposed Roosevelt, but who loved Roosevelt and served in his cabinet, wept and was unashamed . . . Ickes' face was worn and drawn . . . Only Henry Wallace, then secretary of commerce, was calm. Watching Harry Truman take the oath of office as President of the United States—Harry Truman, the man who defeated him at Chicago and in whose shoes he otherwise might have been, Wallace quietly observed: "Roosevelt was a great man. But perhaps what the country needs now is a man of the people. That man"—and he nodded at Truman—"That man may have the Lincolnesque greatness the country needs." . . . . There was no bitterness. With the switch of a few votes, Henry Wallace would have stood in the place where Harry Truman stood. But he was not bitter.

* * *

New Era of Common Man.

SO after 12 long years the champion of the common man went to his final resting place and his successor, the common man, boarded the funeral train . . . . He was humble and the world applauded, silently cheering, fervently hoping that Henry Wallace was right—that a new Lincoln had come to America.

One by one, the new President called the members of the Roosevelt cabinet into his car as the funeral train steamed toward Poughkeepsie. One by one, he implored them to stay on . . . Also slipping into the presidential car went an ex-bootlegger from Kansas City, John Maragon. Cockily he whispered to Col. Harry Vaughan, the new President's new military aide.

The world did not then know that these two were to appoint judges, demote generals, influence affairs in Greece. The world did not know that even on that funeral train a new era had been ushered in.

The Roosevelt cabinet members are gone now. Not one who traveled on that train remains . . . Jimmy Byrnes, the secretary of state, who traveled not only on the train but to Potsdam to decide the peace of the world, has also departed. He saw the new President firsthand as he sat down with the world's greatest leaders at the conference which was to map out the peace of the world . . . Churchill, Truman, Stalin—the Big Three . . . Transportation was difficult, many important diplomats were left behind. Not so Harry Vaughan and his ex-bootlegger friend, John Maragon. They were also present at that historic meeting of the world's most powerful leaders — and boasted of selling black-market wrist watches.

* * *

Stalin Gets Scolded.

THAT MEETING was important not only for what the public knew but for what the public didn't know . . . The humble little President now was humble no more . . . It was his first meeting with Stalin, with whom he hoped to write a lasting peace, and with whom at that time the U. S. A. enjoyed reasonable happy relations. No important differences had then developed . . . . But the once-humble President proceeded to give Stalin a tongue-lashing.

Addressing a man he had never met and from whose army he wanted help in defeating the Japanese, the new President talked like a Dutch uncle about the schedule he expected to be followed at Potsdam.

Churchill raised his eyebrows, looked at Jimmy Byrnes. Neither could interrupt or reprove the President of the United States . . . Stalin has deserved many another bawling out on other matters since, but not during the first few minutes of a conference at which he had not even had time to disagree.

After the first day's session, the little President drove off. With him in the limousine were Jimmy Byrnes and Harry Vaughan . . . . "That was great chief!" exploded the military aide. "You certainly did pour it on him! It was great! Do it again!" . . . The new President beamed. His new secretary of state had planned to issue a note of caution about antagonizing the chief of the country before negotiations even started.

Now it was obvious that the new President was pleased with his performance. Adulation, not criticism, was the cue for the day—and for many other days during the four years thereafter.

The Potsdam conference ended pretty much in failure. High-sounding announcements were issued to cover up the failure, but the public as always found out in the end.

Joe Stalin has deserved plenty of bawlings out since then, but diplomats have wondered whether, if Truman hadn't bawled him out at the very start, he'd have been more co-operative.

Maybe not . . . Maybe if Truman hadn't bawled out Foreign Minister Molotov the minute after he arrived for the U. N. conference, we'd also have got along better with the Russians at San Francisco. Maybe not . . . Maybe if Roosevelt had lived we wouldn't have been in the mess we are with the Russians. Maybe not.

Anyway it seems a long, long time since that quiet day in April when the body of a great warrior was borne down Constitution avenue, past the new buildings he built, past the Washington he loved, past the people who watched and wept and prayed.

Assignment: America

Back To the Concrete

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — The nasal prairie flower in "Buttons and Bows," who keeps up her crooning entreaties to go back where the concrete grows, has the right idea.

Any resemblance between myself and the heroine of the average June-moon school of popular song is purely libelous. But I understand that "Buttons and Bows" character. The cactus hurts my toes, too."

What this country needs is good five-cent concrete and more of it. These past weeks, which I spent in the southwest (Taixas and New Mexico, in particular) convinced me of the great virtue of concrete, say about a 12-inch layer over everything.

When I arrived at La Guardia airport, I did not actually get down and kiss the concrete runway. That was my impulse, but I restrained myself.

Oh, I love the great open spaces of Texas where men are tall and the women are beautiful. But I am not accustomed to people so full of health, wealth and bounce. It is going to take me considerable time to rest up from the impact of so much vim, vigor and vitality.

Give me little old New York, the great enclosed spaces where men are ulcerated wrecks and women are animated neurotics. Give me this metropolis with the shakes, where the wolf and the lounge lizards roam, where always is heard an equivocal word, and the skies they are clouded all day with soot, smoke and eau de gasoline.

Give me this city on the Hudson, dedicated to plain living and high thinking. Texas is a wonderful place. But it's too rich for m blood. I have heard of pigs in clover all my life, but I never saw a real pig with an orchid lei until I hit Houston and its fat stock show. The prize porker made his final appearance in the show ring wearing a trellis of orchids that would have made Peggy Hopkins Joyce pale in her hey-day.

Meeting An Emergency.

IN DALLAS, the influence of Nieman-Marcus, the luxury store that even sells diamond didee pins, is such that citizens in that area no longer say "trapped like a rat" but "trapped like a mink."

And in Dallas, also, I heard of a quick-thinking college girl who managed, under difficult circumstances to preserve intact her record for never being late or absent for school. Our heroine, the daughter of an oil baron, was on her way to school in the Cadillac convertible one morning when a tire blew out.

Faced with the awful possibility of being late to school for the first time in her life, our little girl showed the wit and ingenuity that makes Texans great. She ran three blocks to the Cadillac agency, bought a new car on the spot and drove off triumphantly to school, in time to get under the wire.

It is things like this that make Texas and Texans confusing to us out-landers, who have to work for our money instead of letting oil do it for us. It is also confusing to go to a state where every one stands up when an orchestra plays "I've Been Working On the Railroad," and offers to punch your puss off if you don't stand, too.

It took me some time to get hep to the fact that the Texas anthem, "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You," as sacred to them as "The Star Spangled Banner," is sung to that popular tune

It also took me some time to grasp the fact that in Texas' capital, Austin, the legislative season is coincidental with the mating season. Ladies should include a baseball bat in their luggage.

All in all, I had a wonderful time. Texans are the most kind, helpful and hospitable people in the world.

But can I help it if I like concrete? Can I help it if I don't want to be buried, dead or alive, on the lone prairie?

CONGRESS is expected to approve 5 billion for Europe, 65 million for the UN, 43 million for the Berlin airlift, 5 million to fix up the White House
Brother can you spare a dime?

After all it's just money.

Weathermen are meeting in Washington next week and we may be able to tell which way the wind is blowing after that. The weathermen will discuss improved forecasting and they're hoping it won't rain.

* * *

But the weather bureau does about as well with its forecasts as any other government bureau.

* * *

The labor department has forecast a summer of high employment or an increase in unemployment if it isn't . . . That corresponds to the weatherman's "Sunny all day if it doesn't rain."

* * *

And the state department predicts peace with the Atlantic Pact if it doesn't get us into trouble.

As Others See It

Futile Search.

We have searched and searched through the old Economics I textbook and fail to find anything to support our hope that there may be some reason why motor car manufacturers should sell their product for $1,000, even though they already are finding all the buyers they can handle at $2,000.—Kansas City Star.

As Cerf Tells It

James McNeill Whistler, the famous artist, lived in London so long that many Britishers forgot he was an American, and were dismayed when he reminded them of the fact. "Why ever did you have to be born in America?" grumbled one lady. Whistler explained, "I wanted to be near my mother."

Timely Editorial

White House Souvenirs.

The six-member commission named by the President to supervise remodeling of the White House may be overlooking a chance to let sovenir hunters help pay the bill.

As the remodeling job gets under way there will be tons of old nails, timber, antique hardware and bricks to be hauled to Washington city dumps. Has the commission considered selling these items as souvenirs?

Americans are inveterate souvenir hunters. Many of us find place in our homes for useless bits of bric-a-brac that have historical or personal significance. It is possible that many Americans would welcome a chance to have something, however small and useless, from the home of our presidents. — Cleveland Press.

Aroused Ohioans Seek to Prevent Further Well Tragedies

Resolution Would Ask Safeguards

Seek Additional Safety Measures

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Ohio legislators were asked today to see that a Kathy Fiscus tragedy can't happen here.

Death of the San Marino, Calif., child in an abandoned well prompted Rep Frank E Simpson (D-Hamilton) to demand adequate Ohio safeguards.

He offered a House resolution Monday night directing the State Division of Mines to determine immediately that all abandoned mines, oil, gas and water wells are properly closed off or plugged. House approval would send it to the Senate for similar action.

State law requires plugging of abandoned wells and sealing or fencing off for abandoned mines. The resolution urges recommendation of further statutes if deemed necessary to prevent a ..thy Fiscus death.

The House last night completed passage of a Senate-approved measure by Sen. Richard A. Wilmer (D-Butler) increasing credit union loan limits from $100 to $300.

The House passed 122-0 and sent to the Senate a bill by Rep. Mark W. Bennett (R-Hancock) to prevent "bootlegging" of nonresident pupils by school districts. It would require districts to charge non-resident pupils tuition equal to costs.

The Senate approved 29-1 a Senate-House resolution by Sen. Ralph A. Winter (R-Medina) calling for an investigation of telephone service and rates in Ohio. The inquiry would be made by a ten-member commission instructed to report its findings by June 1.

Winter said complaints of service in rural and suburban areas prompted the demand. Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum (D-Cuyhoga) dissented.

Passed 30-0 and sent to the House was a bill requiring court application for change of venue in divorce actions to be filed within six weeks of service of summons. Sen. Maurice A. Niehaus (D-Hamilton), sponsor of the bill, said venue changes often were filed the day before hearings, upsetting court routine.

3-State Scout Head Resigns

HUNTINGTON, W. VA. — (AP) — H. E. Katschke said yesterday he would resign June 1 as executive of the Tri-State-Boy Scout council here to become executive of the Mahoning Valley council in Youngstown.

Katschke, in scouting work for 30 years, will succeed Kenneth L. Brown, who is retiring.

He has been a professional scout leader for 23 years. He first served as a field executive in Toledo, and became executive in Coshocton, in 1932. After serving there for four years he moved to West Virginia.

Crestline Hospital Escaper Apprehended

A 49-year-old Canton man, who excaped from Crestline Emergency hospital early today, was apprehended in the Pennsylvania freight yeard here at 4 a. m. and released to Crestline police.

Crestline police said the escaper was being treated at the hospital for drug addiction and alcholism. Police here said he had boarded a freight train to Mansfield after his escape.

4-Year-Old Strangled

Housewife Admits Killing Youngster

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Police today held a 64-year-old housewife who confessed the brutal strangulation of Robert Shaw, 4, because of a "desire to kill."

Police said Mrs. Tillie Maschmeier, who admitted once attempting to choke her husband, had signed a two-page statement confessing the killing of the Shaw boy late yesterday.

Coroner Samuel Gerber, who ruled the boy died of asphyxiation caused by strangulation, said the crime could only have been committed by a deranged person.

The boy was found in the Maschmeier home by the woman's husband, Henry. He found the lad inert on the living room floor and his wife missing.

Maschmeier called police who picked up his wife several hours later. The woman readily admitted the crime.

In her confession, Mrs. Maschmeier said she once attempted to straneld her husband but that he woke up while she was trying. She had never been in an institution, but her husband said she had been treated for "spells."

GROUNDBREAKING—Brig. Gen. Errol H. Zistel and Mayor Roy W. Vaughn share honors in breaking ground for the 164th Air National Guard squadron's $1,000,000 project. Looking on (left to right) are Capt. William C. Ash, 164th's commanding officer, John Routzon, secretary manager of the chamber of commerce, Maj. O. N. Haney, corps of engineers, and Alan P. Tappan, chairman of the civilian advisory committee.

164th Hailed as New Industry With Million Dollar 'Plant'

By ROBERT SCHWEITZ

Hailed by its commanding officer, Capt. William O. Ash, as a "new industry in Mansfield" the 164th Air National Squadron began a new phase of its history with the breaking of ground yesterday for it's million dollar military installation.

Brig. Gen. Errol H. Zistel, commanding officer of the 55th Fighter Wing, turned the first earth with Mayor Roy W. Vaughn to launch the project which will mean six new buildings, including a giant hangar, at Mansfield's municipal airport.

Other structures specified in plans are a crash truck building, a warehouse, an administration building and other storage facilities. The installation will occupy 21 acres of airport property.

Attending the ceremony were 32 persons representing various units interested in the project. Speakers at the luncheon at the Sky-Club which followed the ground-breaking included Mayor Vaughn, Dean Dickerson; president of the chamber of commerce, Major O. N. Haney, Army Corps of Engineers, Alan P. Tappan, chairman of the civilian advisory committee, James Davis, chief, engineer for the project, and Capt. Ash.

Gen. Zistell, after the meeting, called the improvement at the airport a tribute to the people of Mansfield, their cooperation and hospitality.

Tappan spoke briefly emphasizing the need for a control tower for the installation.

Capt. Ash also expressed the squadron's appreciation of Mansfield's hospitality.

The first contract, let to Shelby contractors Friebel and Hartman, will provide a labor payroll of $200,000 for from 65 to 100 men, Davis explained. The total contract amounts to $440,000.

The proposed $237,000 airplane parking apron will mean an additional payroll and employment Davis said.

Expanding his remarks about the squadron's being a "new industry" in the city Ash told the guests at the luncheon that the 164th's roster includes 350 officers and men who average a $300 monthly pay. The squadron's annual payroll is $450,000 according to Ash. He pointed out that the 150 full-time including 61 air technicians personnel, are employed at the squadron. He further emphasized that the fighter outfit has been authorized to expand its pilot strength by 12. It now has 26 fighter pilots. Applicants for the 12 new openings must have at least 100 hours fighter time.

The parking strip contract is still to be let, but the Shelby firm expects its part of the program to be finished by the first of 1950. The warehouse is expected to be completed by August this year.

Little Theater Names Cast For Producion May 11, 12

Mrs. Mabel Ward and Forest Domer will play the leads in "Western Union, Please", the final play of the season for the Mansfield Little Theater.

Earl Heasley, director, announced all but one role for the comedy, which will be presented May 11 and 12 in the John Simpson auditorium.

Others chosen for the cast include: Ralph Stanton as Joe Graybell; Mrs. Esther Lythle as Aunt Aurora; Janet Hardin as Alice Daily; Richard Felts as Thaddeus Taylor; Douglas Black as the messenger boy; Jane Van-Tilburg as Melinda Hicks, Betty Erickson as Betty Edgington and Diane Zehrbach as Gertrude Grimm, the three girls' friends; Robert Fulton as Hal Stoddard, Albert Benson as George Gellespie.

The play is an old favorite with amateur theaters, Heasley said.

"It's the war sort of human comedy, based on family life that one finds in 'Lightnin' or 'The Old Soak'," he said. "Reviews have termed it a lot of fun, full of laughter, a wholesome picture of every-day living, chuck full of humor.

Mrs. Ward, who plays the part of the autocratic, sharp-tongued wife of Dan Daley, has appeared often in Little Theater productions. She was the maid in "A Murder Has been Arranged" and is a former stock-company actress.

Domer, who takes the part of her errant husband, Dan, was in the cast of "Room Service" as the doctor.

North Electric NLRB Hearing Gets Under Way In Galion

3 Unions Seek Right As Agent

Attempt Under Way To Bring Election

GALION — A representation hearing, conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, got underway at 10 a m, today at city hall. It is being conducted in an attempt to pave the way for an election to determine bargaining rights at the North Electric Manufacturing company.

Three unions will vie for representation. Majority memberships at the plant are claimed by the Independent Workers Union, and the United Auto Workers (CIO), the latter having conducted a 74-day strike at the plant in 1947 in an effort to gain recognition.

An A. F. of L. Auto Workers union also will be represented at the hearing. Representatives of an independent union of the Company's Mt Gilead plant, also will be present.

Charges of unfair labor practices filed by both the company and the UAW (CIO) with the NLRB, are still pending It has been the practive of the board in the past not to conduct secret ballot for representation until such charges have been cleared.

'CHIEF ENGINEER' — First president of Society of Women Engineers is Phyllis Evans, junior at Drexel Institute of Technology, Philadelphia, Pa. The society covers area from Pittsburgh east and Massachusetts to Virginia. Phyllis is shown studying vibration of a tachometer. (International)

Name 10 Senior High Girls As Relay Queen Candidates

Ten members of this year's graduating class at Senior high school have been chosen as "potential queens" by members of the class. The successful candidate will reign during the 18th Mansfield Relays April 22 and 23.

The 10 include: Patricia Ealy, Betty Erickson, Patricia Jackson, Leora Markley, Audrey McCoy, Mary Nixon, Jean Salsbury, Martha Shiplet, Susan Stoodt and Tina Taylor.

Balloting on the queen will be done tomorrow morning in the home rooms of Senior high school. Announcement of the successful candidate will be made late in the day.

The lucky queen will have as her court the other nine girls of the group, who will reign with her during the athletic event.

The 10 candidates were selected last night by members of the Student Representative Council of Senior high. Miss Kathleen Mendenhall is the teacher adviser for this group.

Get Bids On Substation

Mansfielders in the southwest section of the city will have additional postal facilities by July 1, Curtis L. Ford, acting postmaster, promised today.

Ford said three bids had been received to operate the substation proposed for the vicinity of Lexington and Cook roads.

These bids now are before the first postmaster general in Washington, D. C., who has jurisdiction over the division of post office clerical service.

The contract will be let within the next two to three weeks and the station will be open by July 1, the postmaster said.

This type of sub-station offers all postal service except the handling of COD packages and the selling of postal savings and bonds

Blue Cross Benefits, Rates Upped

Enrollment Drive Opened In County

With the opening today of a drive to enroll more Richland countians in the Blue Cross hospitalization plan, it was announced that greater hospitalization benefits and higher rates will go into effect May 15.

The drive will continue through April 20. The Akron Hospital service which guarantees all benefits under the plans will conduct the enrollment in booths located in the M. O'Neil store and in the Farmers Bank building.

Similar drives will be conducted in other Richland county communities. The membership drive carries the endorsements of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce and other organizations, according to Wayne Copeland, superintendent of General Hospital and a trustee of the Akron Hospital service.

J. D. King, enrollment representative of the Akron office, said rate increases have been deemed necessary due to increased costs of the new sulpha drugs. Although food prices are down slightly, the savings have not balanced the cost of hospital care, King said.

There will be definite savings in hospital bills, King said. Where previously the Blue Cross paid only $25 for drugs, dressings and solutions, the plan now allows $100. Previously Blue Cross allowed $25 for oxygen. Now, there is no limit.

In addition to the increase in benefits for paying members under the plan, non-members also will obtain increased benefits, King said.

Day-by-day rates will increase as follows: single, for ward, from 95 cents to $1.15; husband and wife, ward from $1.90 to $2.45; family, ward, from $1.90 to $2 45.

Rates for semi-private, single, up from $1.15 to $1.30; husband and wife, semi-private, from $2.30 to $2.85; family, from $2.30 to $2.85.

These new rates will be in effect on May 1, King said, who may be contacted at either enrollment place.

Power From Christ On Cross Bolsters Mankind, Pastor Says

By NITA BRANSON

The power that comes from the Uplifted Christ on the Cross of Calvary was emphasized in the sermon at noon today by Rev. Olan W. Aughbaugh, associate pastor of the First Lutheran church, where Holy Week services are being held daily.

Today's crowd numbered about 200 persons. In charge of devotions was Rev. Wray Smith, pastor of the Holy Trinity Lutheran church. Mrs. Wanda Hess Donnan sang "O All Ye Who Travel Upon the Highway", from Dubois' "Seven Last Words", with Mrs. Clayson Bell as accompanist.

Taking as his text John 12:24, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto Me," Rev. Aughbaugh declared that the uplift on the Cross was the only elevation that had remained through the centuries.

"Neither time nor change can make Christ's uplift on the cross void," he said. "His death summed up all His life before. Even non-Christians are attracted to the Cross. If we can get unbelievers to look at the Cross, long enough, even they will see the beauty of holiness there.

"We are drawn to the cross because, in spite of our weaknesses and foolishness, that is the one sure power to overcome all other powers upon the earth.

"Calvary possessed Christ and He became the church's greatest dynamo. On the cross we see Christ at His best. We find Christ crucified, tugging at our lives, pulling at our hearts. Christ will continue to be drawn to men, only if we lift Him up."

Services will continue tomorrow with Rev. A. J. Payne, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church preaching and Major William J. Jones of the Salvation Army in charge of liturgy.

Aroused Ohioans Seek to Prevent Further Well Tragedies

Resolution Would Ask Safeguards

Seek Additional Safety Measures

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Ohio legislators were asked today to see that a Kathy Fiscus tragedy can't happen here.

Death of the San Marino, Calif., child in an abandoned well prompted Rep Frank E Simpson (D-Hamilton) to demand adequate Ohio safeguards.

He offered a House resolution Monday night directing the State Division of Mines to determine immediately that all abandoned mines, oil, gas and water wells are properly closed off or plugged. House approval would send it to the Senate for similar action.

State law requires plugging of abandoned wells and sealing or fencing off for abandoned mines. The resolution urges recommendation of further statutes if deemed necessary to prevent a Kathy Fiscus death.

The House last night completed passage of a Senate-approved measure by Sen. Richard A. Wilmer (D-Butler) increasing credit union loan limits from $100 to $300.

The House passed 122-0 and sent to the Senate a bill by Rep. Mark W. Bennett (R-Hancock) to prevent "bootlegging" of non-resident pupils by school districts. It would require districts to charge non-resident pupils tuition equal to costs.

The Senate approved 29-1 a Senate-House resolution by Sen. Ralph A. Winter (R-Medina) calling for an investigation of telephone service and rates in Ohio. The inquiry would be made by a ten-member commission instructed to report its findings by June 1.

Winter said complaints of service in rural and suburban areas prompted the demand. Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum (D-Cuyhoga) dissented.

Passed 30-0 and sent to the House was a bill requiring court application for change of venue in divorce actions to be filed within six weeks of service of summons. Sen. Maurice A. Niehaus (D-Hamilton), sponsor of the bill, said venue changes often were filed the day before hearings, upsetting court routine.

3-State Scout Head Resigns

HUNTINGTON, W. VA. — (AP) — H. E. Katschke said yesterday he would resign June 1 as executive of the Tri-State-Boy Scout council here to become executive of the Mahoning Valley council in Youngstown.

Katschke, in scouting work for 30 years, will succeed Kenneth L. Brown, who is retiring.

He has been a professional scout leader for 23 years. He first served as a field executive in Toledo, and became executive in Coshocton, in 1932. After serving there for four years he moved to West Virginia.

Crestline Hospital Escaper Apprehended

A 49-year-old Canton man, who excaped from Crestline Emergency hospital early today, was apprehended in the Pennsylvania freight yeard here at 4 a. m. and released to Crestline police.

Crestline police said the escaper was being treated at the hospital for drug addiction and alcholism. Police here said he had boarded a freight train to Mansfield after his escape.

4-Year-Old Strangled

Housewife Admits Killing Youngster

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Police today held a 64-year-old housewife who confessed the brutal strangulation of Robert Shaw, 4, because of a "desire to kill."

Police said Mrs. Tillie Maschmeier, who admitted once attempting to choke her husband, had signed a two-page statement confessing the killing of the Shaw boy late yesterday.

Coroner Samuel Gerber, who ruled the boy died of asphyxiation caused by strangulation, said the crime could only have been committed by a deranged person.

The boy was found in the Maschmeier home by the woman's husband, Henry. He found the lad inert on the living room floor and his wife missing.

Maschmeier called police who picked up his wife several hours later. The woman readily admitted the crime.

In her confession, Mrs. Maschmeier said she once attempted to straneld her husband but that he woke up while she was trying. She had never been in an institution, but her husband said she had been treated for "spells."

Sausage Goes Up In Flames

Sausage and smoke house went up in flames at the Mrs. Dora Grohol residence on North Mulberry street yesterday.

Firemen from Central and No. 2 stations, called to the scene at 6:20 p. m., believed that a spark from an open fire in the smoke house started the blaze.

Mrs. Grohol, who said she built a cherry-wood fire on the earthen floor in the smoke house, estimated she lost between 10 and 15 pounds of sausage in the fire.

Communion Scheduled Friday at Grace Gospel

Rev. James E. Davey, pastor of the Grace Gospel church, will administer the Holy Communion to his congregation Friday at 8 p. m.

In connection with the service, Rev. Davey will read the story of the crucifixion according to St. John. There also will be special music by the choir.

By ROBERT SCHWEITZ

Hailed by its commanding officer, Capt. William O. Ash, as a "new industry in Mansfield" the 164th Air National Squadron began a new phase of its history with the breaking of ground yesterday for it's million dollar military installation.

Brig. Gen. Errol H. Zistel, commanding officer of the 55th Fighter Wing, turned the first earth with Mayor Roy W. Vaughn to launch the project which will mean six new buildings, including a giant hangar, at Mansfield's municipal airport.

Other structures specified in plans are a crash truck building, a warehouse, an administration building and other storage facilities. The installation will occupy 21 acres of airport property.

Attending the ceremony were 32 persons representing various units interested in the project. Speakers at the luncheon at the Sky-Club which followed the ground-breaking included Mayor Vaughn, Dean Dickerson, president of the chamber of commerce, Major O. N. Haney, Army Corps of Engineers, Alan P. Tappan, chairman of the civilian advisory committee, James Davis, chief engineer for the project, and Capt. Ash.

Gen. Zistell, after the meeting, called the improvement at the airport a tribute to the people of Mansfield, their cooperation and hospitality.

Tappan spoke briefly emphasizing the need for a control tower for the installation.

Capt. Ash also expressed the squadron's appreciation of Mansfield's hospitality.

The first contract, let to Shelby contractors Friebel and Hartman, will provide a labor payroll of $200,000 for from 65 to 100 men, Davis explained. The total contract amounts to $440,000.

The proposed $237,000 airplane parking apron will mean an additional payroll and employment Davis said.

Expanding his remarks about the squadron's being a "new industry" in the city Ash told the guests at the luncheon that the 164th's roster includes 350 officers and men who average a $300 monthly pay. The squadron's annual payroll is $450,000 according to Ash. He pointed out that the 150 full-time including 61 air technicians personnel, are employed at the squadron. He further emphasized that the fighter outfit has been authorized to expand its pilot strength by 12. It now has 26 fighter pilots. Applicants for the 12 new openings must have at least 100 hours fighter time.

The parking strip contract is still to be let, but the Shelby firm expects its part of the program to be finished by the first of 1950. The warehouse is expected to be completed by August this year.

Little Theater Names Cast For Producion May 11, 12

Mrs. Mabel Ward and Forest Domer will play the leads in "Western Union, Please", the final play of the season for the Mansfield Little Theater.

Earl Heasley, director, announced all but one role for the comedy, which will be presented May 11 and 12 in the John Simpson auditorium.

Others chosen for the cast include: Ralph Stanton as Joe Graybell; Mrs. Esther Lythle as Aunt Aurora; Janet Hardin as Alice Daily; Richard Felts as Thaddeus Taylor; Douglas Black as the messenger boy; Jane VanTilburg as Melinda Hicks, Betty Erickson as Betty Edgington and Diane Zehrbach as Gertrude Grimm, the three girls' friends; Robert Fulton as Hal Stoddard, Albert Benson as George Gellespie.

The play is an old favorite with amateur theaters, Heasley said.

"It's the war sort of human comedy, based on family life that one finds in 'Lightnin' or 'The Old Soak'," he said. "Reviews have termed it a lot of fun, full of laughter, a wholesome picture of every-day living, chuck full of humor.

Mrs. Ward, who plays the part of the autocratic, sharp-tongued wife of Dan Daley, has appeared often in Little Theater productions. She was the maid in "A Murder Has been Arranged" and is a former stock-company actress.

Domer, who takes the part of her errant husband, Dan, was in the cast of "Room Service" as the doctor.

North Electric NLRB Hearing Gets Under Way In Galion

3 Unions Seek Right As Agent

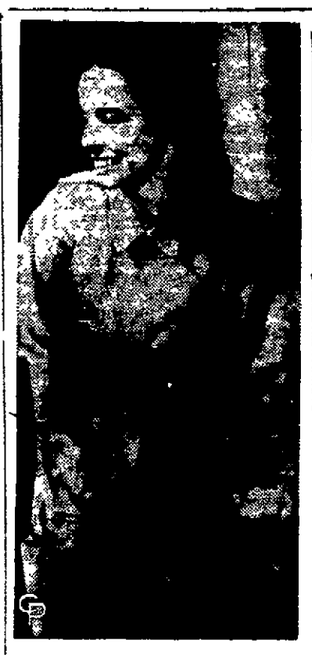
Attempt Under Way To Bring Election

GALION — A representation hearing, conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, got underway at 10 a m, today at city hall. It is being conducted in an attempt to pave the way for an election to determine bargaining rights at the North Electric Manufacturing company.

Three unions will vie for representation. Majority memberships at the plant are claimed by the Independent Workers Union, and the United Auto Workers (CIO), the latter having conducted a 74-day strike at the plant in 1947 in an effort to gain recognition.

An A. F. of L. Auto Workers union also will be represented at the hearing. Representatives of an independent union of the Company's Mt Gilead plant, also will be present.

Charges of unfair labor practices filed by both the company and the UAW (CIO) with the NLRB, are still pending It has been the practive of the board in the past not to conduct secret ballot for representation until such charges have been cleared.



'CHIEF ENGINEER' — First president of Society of Women Engineers is Phyllis Evans, junior at Drexel Institute of Technology, Philadelphia, Pa. The society covers area from Pittsburgh east and Massachusetts to Virginia. Phyllis is shown studying vibration of a tachometer. (International)

Name 10 Senior High Girls As Relay Queen Candidates

Ten members of this year's graduating class at Senior high school have been chosen as "potential queens" by members of the class. The successful candidate will reign during the 18th Mansfield Relays April 22 and 23.

The 10 include: Patricia Ealy, Betty Erickson, Patricia Jackson, Leora Markley, Audrey McCoy, Mary Nixon, Jean Salsbury, Martha Shiplet, Susan Stoodt and Tina Taylor.

Balloting on the queen will be done tomorrow morning in the home rooms of Senior high school. Announcement of the successful candidate will be made late in the day.

The lucky queen will have as her court the other nine girls of the group, who will reign with her during the athletic event.

The 10 candidates were selected last night by members of the Student Representative Council of Senior high. Miss Kathleen Mendenhall is the teacher adviser for this group.

Get Bids On Substation

Mansfielders in the southwest section of the city will have additional postal facilities by July 1, Curtis L. Ford, acting postmaster, promised today.

Ford said three bids had been received to operate the substation proposed for the vicinity of Lexington and Cook roads.

These bids now are before the first postmaster general in Washington, D. C., who has jurisdiction over the division of post office clerical service.

The contract will be let within the next two to three weeks and the station will be open by July 1, the postmaster said.

This type of sub-station offers all postal service except the handling of COD packages and the selling of postal savings and bonds.

Blue Cross Benefits, Rates Upped

Enrollment Drive Opened In County

With the opening today of a drive to enroll more Richland countians in the Blue Cross hospitalization plan, it was announced that greater hospitalization benefits and higher rates will go into effect May 15.

The drive will continue through April 20. The Akron Hospital service which guarantees all benefits under the plans will conduct the enrollment in booths located in the M. O'Neil store and in the Farmers Bank building.

Similar drives will be conducted in other Richland county communities. The membership drive carries the endorsements of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce and other organizations, according to Wayne Copeland, superintendent of General Hospital and a trustee of the Akron Hospital service.

J. D. King, enrollment representative of the Akron office, said rate increases have been deemed necessary due to increased costs of the new sulpha drugs. Although food prices are down slightly, the savings have not balanced the cost of hospital care, King said.

There will be definite savings in hospital bills, King said. Where previously the Blue Cross paid only $25 for drugs, dressings and solutions, the plan now allows $100. Previously Blue Cross allowed $25 for oxygen. Now, there is no limit.

In addition to the increase in benefits for paying members under the plan, non-members also will obtain increased benefits, King said.

Day-by-day rates will increase as follows: single, for ward, from 95 cents to $1.15; husband and wife, ward from $1.90 to $2.45; family, ward, from $1.90 to $2.45.

Rates for semi-private, single, up from $1.15 to $1.30; husband and wife, semi-private, from $2 30 to $2 85; family, from $2.30 to $2.85.

These new rates will be in effect on May 1, King said, who may be contacted at either enrollment place.

Power From Christ On Cross Bolsters Mankind, Pastor Says

By NITA BRANSON

The power that comes from the Uplifted Christ on the Cross of Calvary was emphasized in the sermon at noon today by Rev. Olan W. Aughbaugh, associate pastor of the First Lutheran church, where Holy Week services are being held daily.

Today's crowd numbered about 200 persons. In charge of devotions was Rev. Wray Smith, pastor of the Holy Trinity Lutheran church. Mrs. Wanda Hess-Donnan sang "O All Ye Who Travel Upon the Highway", from Dubois' "Seven Last Words", with Mrs. Clayson Bell as accompanist.

Taking as his text John 12:24, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto Me," Rev. Aughbaugh declared that the uplift on the Cross was the only elevation that had remained through the centuries.

"Neither time nor change can make Christ's uplift on the cross void," he said. "His death summed up all His life before. Even non-Christians are attracted to the Cross. If we can get unbelievers to look at the Cross, long enough, even they will see the beauty of holiness there.

"We are drawn to the cross because, in spite of our weaknesses and foolishness, that is the one sure power to overcome all other powers upon the earth.

"Calvary possessed Christ and He became the church's greatest dynamo. On the cross we see Christ at His best. We find Christ crucified, tugging at our lives, pulling at our hearts. Christ will continue to be drawn to men, only if we lift Him up."

Services will continue tomorrow with Rev. A. J. Payne, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church preaching and Major William J. Jones of the Salvation Army in charge of liturgy.

PLANNING AN EASTER DINNER? HERE'S AN IDEA

By ALICE DENHOFF

A WONDERFUL festival, that Easter Sunday dinner, isn't it, no matter how simple the fare? For if it is nicely prepared and presented, it tells of spring, of the rebirth of all that is sweet and good and refreshing. Sometimes with us it has been a really elaborate affair, other times the fare has been simple. But always it has been served with pride and gratitude and happiness. A few Spring flowers and foliage on the table, a nice cloth, silver, china and glass all shining and suddenly it was Spring, no matter the date or the temperature.

It's nice to have lamb for the Easter dinner, lamb or a nice baked ham, although one family we know always has all its invitations eagerly accepted for its annual crown roast of pork dinner. With roast lamb, asparagus, Franconia potatoes, currant mint sauce makes for might fine fare. For the wind up, a beautiful strawberry shortcake, of course.

BAKED HAM DINNER

A fine baked ham dinner, starting off with tomato bouillon, then the main dish with horseradish sauce, with mashed potatoes, string beans and a lettuce salad with roquefort dressing makes a good meal that might wind up with apricot bavarian cream..

With prices still what they are, lamb chops move up into the special class and so get preferred treatment, in this case served stuffed and baked. For a starter, grapefruit with mint jelly, and with the chops buttered baby beets, parsley potato balls, pickled peaches, Parker House rolls, salad greens with Lombardy dressing, and, for dessert, coffee caramel parfait with cookies.

To prepare the lamb chops for 6, have 6 rib lamb chops, 1½ inches thick. Cut chops half way through to bone. Sear well on all sides; season with salt and pepper. Saute tbsp. chopped onion and one cup sliced fresh mushrooms in 4 tbsp. melted butter until onion is delicately browned. Add 2 tbsp. flour, tbsp. water and 4 tbsp. chili sauce; cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Use to stuff between halves of chops, fastening with toothpicks. Place chops in shallow pan, and bake at 400° F. 35 to 40 minutes.

DELICIOUS DRESSING

Those that balk at eating their salad have been known to mop up the plate when there is Lombardy dressing.

To prepare this very tasty salad dressing, add 2 tbsp. chili sauce, tbsp red or green pepper, finely chopped and tsp. scraped onion to ½ cup French dressing. Chill, and, before using, mix well again. Makes ½ cup dressing.

Coffee Caramel Parfait is a rich dessert, a holiday special with eggs and heavy cream. To prepare 1½ quarts parfait scald 1½ cup milk and 2 tbsps, medium-ground coffee in double boiler; strain immediately. Add ½ cup sugar, caramelized. Beat 2 egg yolks well with ½ cup plain granulated sugar and ¼ tsp. salt, then add to milk-coffee mixture. Cook until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Cool. Add 1½ cup heavy cream and tsp. vanilla. Place in freezing trays of refrigerator and let stand 3 to 4 hours.

How to Tell Your Child About Sex

Sex education is a strange business. We can tell our children how a car runs and what makes it rain. But try going through the ordeal of "that little talk" with adolescents, or teaching younger children about ourselves—how human bodies work, how life starts—that is rough going!

The imparting of knowledge to children on this subject becomes increasingly important and more and more educators and writers are attempting to deal with it.

Two of the very latest writings in the field to come to hand are Lois Pemberton's "The Stork Didn't Bring You" (Hermitage Press), which recites the facts of life for teenagers, and Professor James L. Hymes, Jr. "How to Tell Your Child About Sex". (Public Affairs Pamphlet No. 149), designed for the younger child. Both fill the long felt need for factual truths. Both are chock full of facts for the whole family to read and discuss.

If you are as shy or embarrassed as most parents, or even if you only fear that you may bungle the job—just leave a copy of "The Stork Didn't Bring You" lying about where the children can see it, and you'll soon find them reading and enjoying it. Teenagers will learn everything they want to know about "growing up," from puberty to marriage, and in words they can really understand. As Miss Pemberton puts it:

"This is not just a book, but an effort to help teenagers through a very difficult period when they are assailed by doubts fears, illusions on all sides. . . . Growing up isn't easy, nor all the fun it's cracked up to be. Because of ignorance and many misconceptions, it may very often be painfully distressing or s o l e m n l y frightening. But through intelligent enlightenment, maturing youth can be the fine, exuberant experience it was meant to be. . . .And sincerely, I hope teenagers will gain the know-how from it, to overcome some serious questions and satisfy some troubling doubts."

Sex begins at birth, says Professor Hymes, and in the course of a lifetime of growing up you, the parent, will have many chances to build good sex attitudes and knowledge.

From the time that you hold and fondle your child through his growing awareness of his body, his curiosity about other children and his parents, through the building up of proper foundations for feelings between the sexes, Professor Hymes charts a course for you. It will be very difficult for you to go wrong with this pamphlet as your guide. Almost every conceivable question junior may ask, almost every situation that might present itself, is fully answered for the parent.

Your big aim in sex education for the youngster should be to establish the normality of it all, says Dr. Hymes. You want to prevent any feelings that this is unexpected or different from what happens to all boys and girls. Once you discover how easy it is you will be glad. Your child will be "free and easy" and friendly with his parents and comfortable with himself and with others.

LI'L EASTER LAMB . . . Make it with your own white cake recipe, coconut frosting.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If a bakery in your neighborhood has a Lamb Cake (cake shaped in the form of a lamb) nothing could be more enchanting to serve during Easter when friends drop in. Or if you are able to obtain one of the lamb molds in which these cakes are baked you can prepare it yourself. Serve coffee with the cake—and give your guests a choice of both the regular and decaffeinated varieties; the latter for those who are inclined to count sheep!

Lamb molds aside, you can still make a lovely Easter cake by following this rule:

EASTER CAKE WITH WHITE FUDGE FROSTING

Ingredients for Cake: 2 cups sifted cake flour, 2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, ½ cup butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1¼ cups sugar, 1 cup milk less 2 tablespoons, 3 egg whites.

Ingredients for Frosting: 3 cups sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1¼ cups milk, 1 tablespoon light corn syrup, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon almond flavoring.

Method for Cake: Mix and sift flour, baking powder, and salt together. Cream butter or margarine and vanilla; add 1 cup of the sugar gradually, and continue creaming until light and fluffy. Add the flour in 4 additions, alternately with the milk; begin and end with the flour and beat after each addition only until smooth. Beat egg whites until foamy with electric mixer or rotary beater, add the remaining quarter cup sugar gradually, and beat only until the mixture will hold up in soft peaks when the beater is slowly withdrawn. Now beat egg whites thoroughly into the batter. Turn into two deep-round greased 8-inch lawer pans that have been lined on the bottom with waxed or brown paper and the paper greased. Bake in a modern (375° F.) oven for 25 minutes or until done. Allow to stand for 5 minutes before turning out on cake racks. Strip paper off, cool thoroughly, and spread frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake.

Method for Frosting: Mix sugar, salt, milk, and corn syrup in a heavy saucepan. Bring quickly to a boil, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Boil, without stirring, until a small amount of mixture forms a very soft ball in cold water(or to a temperature of 234° F.). Remove from heat. Add butter or margarine, vanilla and almond flavoring. Cool to lukewarm (110° F.), Beat with electric mixer or wooden spoon until it is of spreading consistency. If necessary place over hot water to keep soft while spreading. For Easter garnish tint butter frosting or whipped cream pink and green with food-coloring; force through pastry tube to form flowers and leaves.

For Wednesday, April 13

A COMPLETE and drastic turn over of the affairs, romantic, domestic and business, may prove radical in its far-reaching and deep-rooted aftermath. The impulses, feelings and emotions seem to be in the saddle, urging to long-range and profound drives for a rebuilding to tangible, and urgently desired changes, hopes and wishes. This emotional and fantastic drive is happily fortified by sound, and reasonable routines or tactics in which responsibility, duty and solid obligations take over against sentimental and strange drives. The more practical and studied course would win support from high places.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may be prepared for a complete about face in the affairs, influencing, shaping and framing the life in its domestic, social, financial and business affiliations. In this there is much lure to experiment, takes chances or seek for dramatic fulfilments of dynamic and far-reaching influence. These temptations have many sides, shapes, drives and lures, involving the practical and realistic as well as far adventure—spectacular and undermining. With due regard for duty, ties and responsibilities there could be telling aid from influential sources. Invoke reason and logic before making drastic change.

A child born on this day, while driven by the romantic, adventureous and experimental, has substrata of the realistic and practical, urging it on to high places in life, with probably sensational climax and happy adventures.

'Easter Show' Means Treats For Kiddies

Look who's here — none other than that personable gentleman Mr. Bunny, reminding us that Easter is only a hop, skip and a jump away. Time to buy a new bonnet for the big parade. Also time to buy Easter egg dye, for who wants to miss the annual party when all the family gathers to turn the kitchen into an artists' colony?

Solid colors are traditional in most families as well as name writing, but if you want some different suggestions for this Easter "show," consider these.

On pale pink or yellow eggs, draw eyes with a black crayon, cut a chicken beak from white paper and paste on. Then paste a feather on the back of the "head" for fetching headgear for this young chick. A bunny's features can be fashioned with crepe paper for those long, soft ears, two white gum reinforcements for his eyes and one pasted over crossed string to form his mouth and moustache.

Eggs as bright and coloful as an emperor's gems can be designed by pasting colored sequins on dyed eggs Sapphires would be blue on blue, emeralds green on green, etc. Or abstract designs can be made from a combination of vari-colored sequins. Old hat trimmings can be fashioned into some very original decorations, too.

Children who are coloring eggs for the first time will have lots of fun using the package of certified food colors which includes a mystic writer and about 50 transfers in addition to six basic colors. Simple directions are given on the back of the box for best results. . . best results, that is, for Easter eggs and order in the kitchen after the coloring and decorating operations are completed.

There are 20,000 known diseases of useful plants in the United States. They cause losses totaling hundreds of millions of dollars each year.

Fortunate Are Children to Whom Bedtime Means Storytime

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE

Fortunate are the children to whom bedtime means story time, says the National Kindergarten Association. And, they add, fortunate are the mothers who have established the custom of reading or relating a story to their youngsters before tucking them in for the night.

The sharing of a story is one of the keenest pleasures that one can find in the rearing of a family.

You don't have to be a good reader, advises the Association. Little children are not too critical. Begin passing on stories to them when they are quite young, and, as the mutual interest grows, Mother will find she improves with practice.

Jingly nursery rhymes are most appealing to little children, says the Association. Even today's babies, brought up by the most modern methods, like to clap their chubby little hands to:

Pat-a-cake, pat-a-cake,
baker's man,
Bake me a cake as fast
as you can.

And unlucky is any boy who has not had his fingers and toes tweaked to:

"This little pig went to market, This little pig stayed at home."

One can scarecely call these baby-talk rhymes stories; yet they do form the groundwork for story-telling. The child's interest is caught-he gives quiet attention — and so absorbs something outside of his nursery sphere. After such rhymes as the two quoted come many well-known standbys. "Jack and Jill" and those other two Jacks—"Jack Horner" and "Jack Spratt" can be accompanied with just enough action of the hands to make them fun for little listeners.

Music can be correlated most pleasantly with the stories. Mothers can teach their children to sing nursery rhymes almost as soon as they can talk.

Of course, story time should not be restricted to nursery jingles along. Short, simple-worded tales from the Bible, from fairy lore, and from those in the chilren's sections of good magazines may all help to form a nucleus of the children's own library. The practice, too, of making a scrapbook, containing any worthwhile stories which you cull from periodicals, is increasingly benefical.

For a small family a boneless smoked shoulder butt of ham is a good choice. These weigh from one to four pounds. They are sometimes called "cottage" or "daisy" hams.

Hildegarde's Shoe, Dress Costs Contrast; Franco's Pals Busy

NEW YORK HEARTBEAT—Hildegarde, wearing $5 shoes beneath those $1,500 frocks at the Persian Room. . . . Lee Grant (the shoplifter in "Detective Story"), who danced at the Met Opera House in the ballet when she was 6 . . . Jimmy Doolittle, who led the Jap raid by air, being waited on by a former flier, now a Bagatelle bartender . . . Patrice Munsel, the lark, and her boy-beau (Johnny Johnson) week-ending practically at Le Mirliton. He attends Yale the rest of the week . Tallulah Bankhead, taking tiffin at Theodore's, in blue slax and looong red gloves . . Thomas Mitchell, the only actor on Broadway with an Academy Award.

Midtown Story: This movie producer's wife hadn't grown along with him. . . . A very nice lady, who stayed home and had babies, while he became rich and renowned. . . . Consequently, he was hesitant about taking her out to meet his new society friends. . She nagged him about it. He finally agreed to take her to a swank dinner party, with the promise she wouldn't say anything—just keep her mouth shut and not embarrass him. "Keep quiet," he counseled her, "and they will never know how stupid you are!" . . Throughout dinner all she said was yes or no. . After dinner, the hostess said: "Let's all go to the library. She stared a moment and said: "The library is open so late?"

Those shoveling the horseradish for Franco here have concocted the most monstrous falsehood. The Spanish leader, they say, is a veritable goldmine of military wisdom and we should jump at the opportunity to grab a few nuggets. Franco is the genius who informed his Fascist Council on July 17, 1941, that the Allies had already lost the war.

Don't laugh! But Stalin's world-conquest illusions can be matched only by Franco. Spain's bully-boy hasn't made a secret of this wild ambition. . . . Proof? Several years ago Spain's Fascist Party issued a blueprint of its plans to extend Franco's power. It contained 26 points—the 5th point made Franco's globe-grabbing ambitions clear.

Latin-America has been chosen by Franco as the battleground to endeavor to carve an empire. It isn't news that Spanish propagandists are anxious to undermine the Good Neighbor Policy. His most willing accomplice is dictator Peron.

It is significant that even the most vociferous Franco-boys in the U. S. weakly confess his military machine is obsolete. It is only potent enough to terrorize his own subjugated people.

Franco's Gov't congratulated Japan for its Pearl Harboring. Yet, today it seems likely that Franco's skulduggery will emerge victorious from the diplomatic slugfest. Diplomacy is all too often a form of power-hungry lunacy. . Only public opinion might stop it.

Spring Comes to Manhattan, and It's the Greatest Show In Town

NEW YORK—Ya-a-www-w-w-wn-nn!

I guess spring is really here. Spring fever is anyway. And the season of gentle melancholy and pleasant foolishness is upon us.

It is a time of dreamy peace for the common man, as his mind and body prepare for the chemistry of summer. But it is also a time of great wars. Ambitious leaders through all history have picked this season to unleash the armies they have built up through the winter. The ground has firmed for the martial foot.

But this year looks like another of the years the world treasures — a year of peace. The bugle hangs on the wall, brightly polished but unblown. No mighty armies are massed for attack . . . that we know of.

Spring comes to the city in small surprises. Down where I live you can tell it best by the sudden increase of perambulators. The poor man on the lower east side may never hope to own a motor car. But he will go without a suit to see that his new baby rides in the finest buggy in the neighborhood.

A day arrives when the air wears a chill in the shade and a sudden softness in the sun. And the sidewalks bloom with thousands of baby buggies, alive with posterity and the voices of tomorrow.

Across the East river a few buds burst open on the tree that grows in Brooklyn. And here in Manhattan you'd think the cold skyscrapers themselves would erupt in greenery — thrust out limbs and leaves to catch the warmth. And perhaps some day they will, and turn this stony wilderness into a green garden of the spirit.

You can live here all your life and never see a robin or a bluebird, the heralds of spring elsewhere. But the pigeons aren't a bad substitute. The pavement is alive with their courtships — love underfoot — and their cooing can be heard half a block.

Up in Central park they begin to put out the boats for the sailors. People often have wondered why sailors fresh from the sea go there to row boats around the lake. There is no mystery about it. They go there because, as one sailor told me, "It's a wonderful place to meet a girl."

THERE ISN'T much the average man does here to show how spring affects him. He dares a brighter necktie. He dawles and day dreams more. And I think the doodling on his desk pad changes in a subtle way. But what would take a Cryptographic Dr. Kinsey to interpret.

The girls, as always, are more demonstrative. Oh, the girls, the beautiful girls of New York. They break out in more colorful dresses. They plump in unexpected places. And is it only imagination that there is more of a waggle in their walk?

The icy receptionist shows a thawing heart and she turneth away the salesman at the door without wrath.

A gleam comes into the housewife's eye. She wraps an old cloth about her head. Dust rises. The furniture makes its semi-annual trek around the living room to the tune of her husband's creaking joints.

The streetcleaner whistles behind his broom. The stenographer carries a bouquet to work, and everyone gets a flower. Every woman is fair to the eye — and every bachelor is a possibility. Even the subway sings adventure.

By these signs you know it. Spring is here — the best show in town.

City Traffic Injuries Show Gain

10 Persons Hurt During March

Ten persons were injured in 125 traffic accidents reported in Mansfield during March and police made 65 arrests as a result of the accidents.

Three of the persons were pedestrians, the traffic bureau's monthly report shows.

Only one more accident was reported than in March of 1948, but three-month totals this year far exceed the same period in 1948.

In three months this year police have investigated 397 traffic accidents in which 41 persons were injured. In 1948 there were 374 accidents and 28 injured.

Sixty-five of 214 drivers involved in the accidents investigated during March were arrested by police.

The most frequent violation was failure to yield the right-of-way, which accounted for 15 arrests. Seven accidents resulted from following the preceding car too closely and six from disregarding the stop and go signals. Five persons were arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol follwing accidents.

Most accidents, 17, occurred between 4 and 5 p. m. The next most dangerous hour was from 11 a. m., to noon when 14 accidents were reported. There were 11 mishaps from 3 to 4 p. m.

Monday and Friday were the most dangerous days last week for motorists and pedestrians. Twenty-one accidents were reported each day.

Sixty-nine were at intersections and 54 in the shopping district. There were 59 accidents in the residential area.

Women drivers were involved in only 18 cases, and 190 men were behind the wheel in cars involved in collisions.

Forty-nine of 214 drivers involved in accidents lived in other communities.

Tax Receipts Top '48 Total

Collection first-half personal property taxes already has topped the collection for last year.

County Treasurer Charles C. Payne said $206,773 in general $141,986 in classified personal property taxes had been collected by yesterday's 4 p. m. deadline.

However, there were about 200 extensions which will boost the collection within the next two months.

The first-half collection for last year totaled $180,016 in general and $183,432 in classified personal property taxes.

County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said the total undividual returns last year were 4,821 compared with 4,700 to date plus the 200 due. The greater number of returns is due to increase in population and the number of businesses, Wolfe said.

Administers Rites

State Asks Road Bids

Plans Resurfacing In Two Counties

Bids for improvement of 40.5 miles of road in Richland and Crawford counties will be accepted by State Highway Director T. J. Kauer until April 26, it was announced today. Estimated cost of the work is $90,435.

In Richland county 25.02 miles of road will receive bituminous treatment.

Roads to be improved are 4.55 miles of State Route 39 in Monroe township 7.79 miles of State Route 95 in Jefferson, Worthington and Monroe townships, 3.77 miles of State Route 314 in Springfield township, 3.86 miles of State Route 598 in Plymouth township, 5.05 miles of State Route 603 in Blooming Grove, Butler and Weller townships.

The remainder of the road work, in Crawford county, includes resurfacing of 2.92 miles of State Route 96 in Vernon township, 7.03 miles of State Route 98 in Liberty and Auburn townships, 1.26 miles of State Route 100 in Whetsone township, and 3.82 miles of State Route 298 in Cranberry and Auburn townships.

The project is to be completed not later than Sept. 1.

J. W. Stevens Expires at 51

James W. Stevens, 51, died this morning at his home, 362 Ninth avenue, following an extended illness.

Mr. Stevens was born Feb. 14, 1898 at Coalton, coming to Mansfield 13 years ago. He was a former employe of the Westinghouse Electric corporation, having worked as an assembler. He was a member of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Surviving are his widow, Edna; five sons, Dwaine, Royce, Chester, Willis and James jr., all of Mansfield; a daughter, Mrs. L. K. Garis of Fort Wayne, Ind.; his mother, Mrs. Anna Stevens of Mansfield, and five granddaughters.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where services will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Campers to Attend 'Dogpatch' Party

More than 400 invitations, in the form of miniature comic books, have been sent to last summer's campers at Hidden Hollow camp, inviting them to a camp reunion.

The invitations, depicting Lil' Abner and Daisy Mae talking about Lil' Abner's new "friend", are done in yellow with stenciled pictures of the comic characters.

On the final page of the booklet, Lil' Abner says, "Yo is my Li'l friend, Hidden Hollow camper, and ah wants to see yo' at a camp reunion at John Simpson junior hi school on Tuesday, April 19, 7 to 10 o'clock. Jes' send the card and tell us Yo'll be thar."

The reunion next Tuesday will be the sixth annual get-together for Mansfield area children who have enjoyed camping in the hills southeast of Mansfield.

The party will be, as the Li'l Abner book suggests, a "Hilly-Billy Jamboree."

Campers are asked to come costumed in typical Dogpatch style. The evening's program will include round and square dancing, special musical entertainment by the staff, novelty numbers by the campers and refreshments consisting of "kickapoo joy juice" and "taters."

Registration blanks and information about this season's camping periods will be issued that night by Russell and Mary Gimbel, Friendly House and camp directors. Hidden Hollow camp will operate for a season of nine weeks, starting June 26 and closing Aug. 27.

Parents have been invited to the reunion with the children so that they may see the pictures of last summer's camping program.

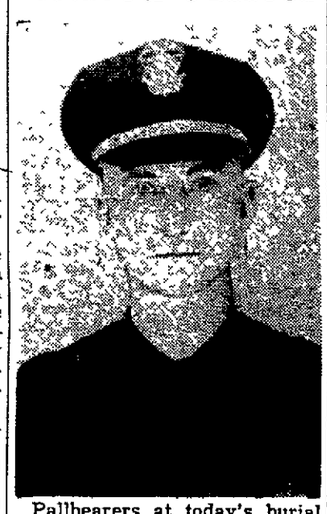
The reunion plans are in charge of the Friendly House staff and Miss Frances Wolf, Mansfield teacher, who is program director of Hidden Hollow camp.

Pupils to Demonstrate Musical Work Tonight

A demonstration of the hymnastic and musical work which the pupils of the Rebecca-Grubaugh school have done during the year, will be given in the new school gymnasium tonight.

The demonstration will be given before members of the school P-TA, according to Wilbur Upson, president. A business meeting and refreshments will also be a part of the evening's program.

Rites Held For Retired Officer



Pallbearers at today's burial of retired Police Captain John Miller, 64, included four law enforcement officials who were associated with the captain during his police career. Detective Bruce Friday, Patrolmen O. D. Fair and Russell Miles, ex-Sheriff Fred Sells, Leo Hunt, and C. C. McDonald were Capt. Miller's pallbearers at Memorial Park today.

Services were conducted at the Jones Memorial by Rev. C. P. Mitchell at 2 p. m.

Capt. Miller had spent over 26 years on the force before retiring Jan. 1, 1948, and had been a captain since 1925.

Expect 400 at Moose Lodge Party

Four hundred persons are expected to attend the final Moose lodge family covered-dish dinner at the lodge at 7 p. m. Thursday.

Following the dinner there will be a floor show, and an orchestra will play for dancing. Movies will be shown for the children.

Fred Harmon is chairman of the dinner.

ESSENTIALS —

A couple of motorists patiently sat behind a school bus yesterday and waited until one of the boys on the bus went back into his house to get a very important piece of equipment. After the bus driver had craned his neck out the window to look for the boy and the motorists looked hopefully toward the house and at their watches, the youngster came running out with his forgotten school materials. Perched on his head was his baseball cap and on his hand was his baseball glove.

COMING HOME—

A former Bucyrus resident is being brought back to the home of his son, Harvey Hildebrand jr., 217 Rhein avenue, from New Guinea where he was injured in an accident. He is Harvey Hildebrand, a lay Lutheran missionary, who went out to New Guinea with the reconstruction group several years ago. Hildebrand is believed to have been hurt while cutting down a tree at the New Guinea Lutheran mission. His daughter-in-law said today that she and her husband have been expecting word each day for the past three days as to the time of Hildebrand's arrival. The plane was scheduled to fly from New Guinea to Sydney, Australia, then on to the west coast. The Mansfield Hildebrands expect word as soon as Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrand sr., arrive in Columbus.

Mahoney Asks Dual Hearings

State Leaders Call Meeting

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Legislative leaders meet today to thresh out the question of whether the administration's $649,461,445 budget should be given hearings in both houses at the same time.

Sen. Margaret Mahoney, D., Cuyahoga, announced the meeting along with a demand for a concurrent hearing as the finance committee of the lower house opened its study of the two-year-budget, largest in Ohio history.

"I want concurrent hearings," Senator Mahoney said.

The main question to be settled is whether a duplicate budget bill will be introduced in the Senate. This would permit the Senate to hold separate hearings on the budget before the House has acted on the measure.

Miss Mahoney said this would be decided upon in a meeting with House Speaker John Cantwell, D., Mahoning, House Finance Chairwoman Rep. Anna O'Neil, D., Summit, and Senate Finance Chairman Clingan Jackson, D., Mahoning.

Standard procedure in the past has been for the House to finish work on the budget before giving the Senate a crack at the measure. Then differences between the two houses would be ironed out in a conference committee.

The Senate majority leader indicated she hoped to shorten the length of the session by having Senate Finance committee members sit in on the House hearings even if it is decided not to introduce a separate bill in the upper chamber.

"Senator Jackson and other members of the Finance committee have told me they will sit in on the House sessions," Miss Mahoney said.

Death Takes F. P. Elder

Franklin F. Elder, 58, World War 1 veteran, died unexpectedly at his home, 549 Cook road, this morning.

Mr. Elder was born at New Brighton, Pa., July 9, 1890 and came to Mansfield seven years ago. He had been an employe of the Pennsylvania railroad for the past 35 years, serving as yard master at the time of his death.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian church, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, McVey Post American Legion, and the Masonic lodge of Canton.

Mr. Elder is survived by his widow, Tirzah; a son, John F. at home; two daughters, Mrs. Judson Wylie of Wooster and Miss Elizabeth Elder at home, also three grandchildren.

Services will be held at the Wappner funeral home at 3 p. m. Thursday conducted by Rev. Devid N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. Pallbearers will be selected from among his coworkers with the Pennsylvania company.

Alleged Kidnaper Continues To Elude Four-State Manhunt

ASHLAND — Police today reported no success in their search for Fred Horton who is charged with kidnaping in connection with the April 1 disappearance of 14-year-old Sylvia Benepe, children's home ward, from near the Arthur street school.

A four-state alarm had been issued for the suspect.

Horton, alias Wharton or Whorton, was named in a kidnap warrant filed last week by Police Chief Harry Smith. Since then the chief has received information showing the suspect's entire criminal record.

This information disclosed that Horton was sentenced as a boy in 1938 to the State House of Reform in Greenville, Ky., for bicycle theft. In 1941 he was arrested at Eddyville, Ky., for breaking into a building.

A forgery charge was placed against him in Paducah, Ky., in 1943 and in 1944 he was listed as wanted for desertion from the Navy. He was held in Amarillo, Texas, in 1947 for vagrancy and in connection with a forgery and burglary.

The owner of the house occupied by the Hortons prior to their sudden disappearance has taken it over and cleaned it. No word has been received from the former occupants.

Chief Smith said today the FBI had not been called into the case as yet. John Benepe, father of Sylvia, remains in the county jail awaiting trail on indictment for two statutory charges. The missing daughter is wanted as a star witness.

The case first broke when the girl complained to police and juvile authorities took over.
